

EDMONTON, SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1913.

CURRENCY BILL IS COMPROMISE WITH BANKERS

J. Hamilton Iron street, this city, was rescued from drowning yesterday by a youthful companion named Honeymoon, and efficient service rendered with a pulmotor in the hands of James Watters.

Police Sports at the Exhibition Grounds today.

WM. MACADAMS, EDITOR.

HENRY J. ROCHE, MANAGER.

EDMONTON DAILY CAPITAL

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION—DAILY CAPITAL BUILDING, 623-625 SECOND STREET.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

Daily, delivered by carrier in city $4.00 By mail to outside points, by year $3.00
 The Daily Capital is on sale regularly at the following news stands: Alberta Hotel, Cecil Hotel, Castle Hotel, King Edward Hotel, Windsor Hotel, Dominion Cigar Store, Central Cigar Store, Douglas Bookstore, Little's Bookstore, A. C. Smith's, First Street, Imperial Cigar Store, Yale Hotel, Hotel, 221 Jasper W.; Royal George Hotel, Grouard News Stand, Grouard, Alta.; Hackett's Cigar Store, Athabasca Landing; H. A. Switzer & Co., Edmonton, Alta.; Jeffries' Cigar Store, Edmonton, Alta.
 CAGARY—Alberta Hotel.

Readers of The Capital are requested to favor the management by reporting any irregularities in delivery.

THE CUL DE SAC INTO WHICH MAYOR SHORT HAS PROJECTED THE CITY OF EDMONTON

The first of August has come and gone and, as was to have been expected, the Klein-worts have not paid over the two millions due on the city bond issue on that date. They have wired the city that they are prepared to finance the city as per the original arrangement. This wire, taken in connection with the fact that they previously have objected to the mayor's horse play with the bond agreement, quite evidently intimates that they do not intend to forward any more money until the city puts its own affairs in order.

This puts it distinctly up to Mayor Short.

If the city of Edmonton is to get the balance of the eleven million it arranged for early in the year, it will have to perform its part of the contract by, in the first place, putting its bond issue in proper form, rectifying the errors of calculation, getting the bonds printed and handing them over, and then by undertaking the complete programme of work called for in the estimates upon which the money was originally borrowed. Until that is done it is quite clear the city will get no more money.

This is the cul de sac into which Mayor Short's callisthenics with the bond issue have been leading for the past two months. The underwriters did not ask for the curtailment and do not do so now. The curtailment proposal was Mayor Short's, not the underwriters'. The underwriters did not refuse to put up the money for the August 1 payment, and do not do so now. It was Mayor Short who, by his most unbusiness-like handling of the bond issue, has made it impossible for the underwriters to pay over the money. It is not the underwriters' move at the present juncture, but Mayor Short's move. It is his part of the contract which is not being carried out, not the underwriters', and until he does his part the underwriters cannot be expected to do theirs.

Although Mayor Short refuses to give the full details to the public, there is not the slightest shadow of doubt that it has been plainly intimated to him that until he does his part the whole transaction has come to a standstill.

In cold, unvarnished language, this means that Mayor Short, in his mis-handling of the city's finance, has brought the city's work to a stop. The whole plan of construction now under way may be brought to a halt very shortly and the city left with millions of dollars' worth of partially-completed work on its hands, unable to go ahead with any part of it and unable to fill up the trenches that have been dug or to make passable the streets which have been torn up because it will not have the money to pay the common laborers.

This situation leads inevitably to the conclusion that in the present hands the city's finances are being handled in such a manner that, if persisted in, must endanger the whole scheme of municipal ownership and Edmonton will be fortunate, indeed, if it escapes even now from the situation thus created with the enterprises intact.

The immediate necessities of the case are such that something must be done. The city must not be tied up and its hundreds of employees laid off right in the midst of the very best part of the construction season. Already three hundred of them have been discharged and are walking the streets. A thousand more added to the army of the unemployed will be little short of a calamity. As a penalty for blundering mis-management and the price the community must pay for the irascibility of one man it is altogether too high a price.

If the present mayor, with his present unworkable system of diffused authority, is unable to bring order out of the financial scotchash he has created, then it is time the system was changed, or the administrative head were changed.

The council has the authority under the charter to so interest the duties of the commissioners as to make possible some semblance of order and authority, and it cannot move too quickly if it would save the situation.

The way open for the council to secure some measure of immediate relief is for them to at once delegate to some one of the present civic officers the duty of handling the city's finance—preferably Mr. Harrison, as he is the one who, by training and experience, is best equipped for the duties devolving—and give him a free hand to straighten the kinks out of the debenture issue so that the bond buyers may be able to advance the money due and prevent a complete tie up of the city's work.

Unless some move is undertaken at once which will restore order and the prevalence of business principles in the handling of the city's affairs, the city is due to reach a situation the immediate effects of which will be little better than those of a panic and the ultimate effects of which will be reflected in the city's credit for years to come.

The first duty of the hour is to restore order in the city's financial affairs. After that it will be high time for a few able citizens to set about the construction of a commission charter which will forever preclude the possibility of the city being again projected into any such situation as the present.

AN INTERNATIONAL PROMISE BREAKER.

Seeing no reason why it should help to celebrate an event which it has no reason to enliven over, Great Britain refuses to take part in the Panama exhibition.

Possibly the method adopted is about the nearest of bringing it to the attention of the people of United States that the completion of the canal, accompanied as it is by a violation of their treaty with Britain, is not an event of honor but of dishonor to the country which built the canal.

United States may be able to celebrate the completion of the canal as a physical achievement. As a moral achievement United States government has dropped to the position among nations generally attributed to the sultan of Morocco—a sort of an international promise breaker.

AN INSTANCE TO SHOW THE EXTENT OF THE BUNGLING

Some idea of just how thoroughly the finances of the city have been bungled by the present municipal administration and the past may be judged by the circumstance that in the curtailment list which the council committee of four "with power to act" has adopted there is included the substitution of temporary for permanent car track on Spruce avenue and on the west end of Nelson avenue. Debentures for both these improvements were floated more than two years ago, and the street railway department has been paying interest and sinking fund on the capital thus provided for these two years.

The debentures for these have been sold and the money realized used for the purchase of parks and other non-revenue-producing purposes, while the street railway has been compelled to stagger along under the load of over-capitalization which this kind of financing entails. Now the "committee with power to act," which never by any chance votes contrary to the mayor, decides that the street railway cannot have the use of its money even yet, but must accept temporary track, the maintenance charges against which, added to the capital charge for the money of which the system is deprived the use, will constitute a burden sufficient to make a surplus on that section of the street railway practically impossible.

Had the mayor and his present committee "with power to act" been a royal commission appointed for the purpose of wrecking the street railway they could not have proceeded along more accurate or effective lines.

JUST PARAGRAPHS.

France is going to borrow another two hundred millions to spend in armament. By the time they are thoroughly equipped with fighting machines they will probably remember that they need the services of a few farmers to feed the fighting men.

The mayor said that George Armstrong's financing last year would have landed some people in jail. After viewing the street numbering proposals er-Mayor Armstrong will probably rejoice that what is wanted in Mayor Short's case is a lunacy commission.

Now watch the Journal drag out the corpse and hold a post mortem on the candidate it seduced into becoming a sacrifice.

EDMONTON EXHIBITION

August 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16

Good Races
 Good Show of Live Stock
 Good Programme of Free Attractions
 Kline Shows on the Midway
 Military Tattoo
 Fireworks

72nd SEAFORTH HIGHLANDERS' BAND IN ATTENDANCE

Be sure to see the large exhibit of paintings loaned by the Ontario Society of Artists.

Exhibits of special interest for everyone.

BIGGEST DOG SHOW IN THE WEST

A. B. CAMPBELL

PRESIDENT

W. J. STARK

MANAGER

PREVENTION OF TYPHOID FEVER IS POINTED OUT

The attention of summer tourists and others is called in some suggestions to the question of the prevention of typhoid infection by Dr. J. H. Townsend, secretary of the state board of health in the monthly bulletin of that board issued recently.

"Typhoid fever," he says, "is a disease common in the summer and fall. Every autumn a number of cases occur in the cities which on investigation are found to have been imported from the country by persons returning from their summer vacations. Much of the danger from this source may be avoided, if reasonable care is exercised in choosing a place to spend the summer."

"Typhoid fever is a disease of man and is contracted by taking into the mouth, in some form, the discharges from some previous case. There is no other way. The germs are carried from sick to well in water and food, by flies and the fingers. Therefore, in the choice of a place to spend the summer, one should inquire into the prevalence of typhoid fever in the community and should determine the opportunity of conveying the germs of the disease from the sick to the well visitor."

SURPRISED

A Scotchman landed in Canada not long ago. The very first morning he walked abroad he met a coal-black negro. It happened that the negro had been born in the Highland district of Scotland and had spent the greater part of his life there. Naturally, he had a burr on his tongue.

"Her, manna," said the pink Scotchman, "can ye no tell me whither I'll find the kirk?"

"The kirk," he said, "is by the arm and led him to the corner. 'Go right up to you was house and turn to women, and sing up the hill,' said he."

"The fresh introduction from Scotland looked him, in horror. 'And are ye from Scotland, man?' he asked. 'Right ye are,' said the darkey. 'Abendness na name.'"

"And how have ye been here?" "About two year," said the darkey. "Lord save and keep us!" said the new arrival. "Whaur can I get the boat for Edinburgh?" (Cincinnati Times-Star.)

WASTE CAPITAL

Why are our schools standing empty night and day? Thousands of boys and girls, young men and young women, and also people of more mature age need the use of these buildings. Their surplus energy finds vent in roaming the streets or hanging about at the street corners wondering what to do. In the schools there are rooms where dances might be held, where clubs might meet, where amateur concerts and theatricals could be given, where a studios painter might rest in quiet and com-

TRINITY PORT HOPE, ONTARIO Residential Church School for Boys

Next Term begins Sept. 11th. For Catalogue apply to the Rev. Mr. KEN S. GRAMHAM, Principal, 111 St. George Street, Port Hope, Ontario.

fort. Each school house, out of school hours, might be managed by a committee of the parents in the district. The cost of extra janitor service and of any appliances required could be defrayed by subscriptions collected from those using the school, or by small fees charged for the use of club rooms and dance rooms. Only two things are needed to secure full benefit from the vast sums of money in the school buildings: Organization and ability to overcome the conservative habit of thought which regards a school house as a torture chamber for the young. If more use were made of school buildings, there would be less work for reformatories and corrective institutions, and there would be fewer spoiled lives.

FUTURE OF ALBERTA.

(Calgary Alberta)

Germany has a smaller area than the province of Alberta. The soil is somewhat barren in places and is not very productive. It is sandy and rough. Despite that, Germany supports 65,000,000 people, and 90 per cent. of the food is produced in the German empire. The German people estimate that the country can support a population of 100,000,000 people. If Germany, with all the disadvantages, can support such a population in such a manner, what is the future for Western Canada?

WHERE SYMPATHY IS WASTED

(Vancouver Province.)

It is not uncommon for many men to forget how much they owe, but in these days of money famine, when there are straining their resources to people any possible asset, it is surprising to read of the thousands of dollars lying unclaimed by depositors in the banks. Sympathy is wasted on these "absent-minded beggars."

WHY TAX REFORMERS INCREASE.

(Ottawa Giltzen)

When one realizes the immense total of value socially created and the meager amount that has found its way by taxation into the public purse, one can form an adequate conception of the force impelling tax reformers to accomplish necessary reforms.

St. MARGARET'S COLLEGE TORONTO

A RESIDENTIAL AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

(Founded by the late George Dickson, B.A., former Principal of Upper Canada College, and Miss Dickson.)

ACADEMIC COURSE from Preparatory to University Matriculation and First Year Work.
 MUSIC, ART, DOMESTIC SCIENCE, PHYSICAL EDUCATION—Cricket, Tennis, Basket Ball, Hockey, Swimming Bath.

SCHOOL RE-OPENS AFTER HOLIDAYS, September 10th, 1913.
 Write for Prospectus
 MRS. GEORGE DICKSON, President MISS J. E. MACDONALD, B.A., Principal

Bishop Strachan School

FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR

A Church Residential and Day School for Girls.
 Full Matriculation Course.
 Elementary Work, Domestic Arts, Music and Painting.
 President: The Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Toronto

Principal: MISS WALSH / Vice-Principal: MISS NATION
 Wykeham Hall, College Street, Toronto.

Also 423 Avenue Road—A BRANCH JUNIOR DAY SCHOOL.
 Kindergarten, Preparatory and Lower School classes under well-qualified mistresses.
 Reopens Wednesday, Sept. 10th, for Resident Pupils, and Thursday, Sept. 11th, for Day Pupils.

Havergal Ladies' College

JARVIS ST.

TORONTO

Principal: MISS KNOX

Thorough education in modern lines. Preparation for honors matriculation and other examinations. Separate Junior School, Domestic Science Department, Gymnasium, Outdoor Games, Skating Rink, Swimming Bath.
 HAVERGAL-ON-THE-HILL: College Heights, Toronto
 A second Junior School to be opened for the convenience of pupils resident in the Northern and Western parts of the City. Large Playing Grounds of three acres enclosed tennis, basketball. Under the direct supervision of Miss Knox, assisted by specialists in Junior School teaching and in Languages.
 For illustrated catalogue and prospectus apply to the Bursar.
 School will re-open on Sept. 17. R. MILICAMP, B.Sc., Sec.-Treas.

ONTARIO LADIES' COLLEGE

And Ontario Conservatory of Music and Art, Whitby, Canada, Stands For Efficient and Cultured Young Womanhood

The new $25,000 Gymnasium, with swimming pool, etc., together with a large and attractive campus, affords facilities for Scientific, Physical Education, and other studies in any English School in this country. The strength of the staff may be judged from the fact that seven University Graduates, all specialists in their subjects, give instruction in the Library Department. All the other Departments are equally well provided for. Read for new Illustrated Catalogue to

REV. J. J. HARE, Ph.D., Principal.

Capital Want Ads Are Business Magnets

'Capita' Home Beautiful Series, No. 13

For those who want a Convenient Home

Irrigation Men Meet Lethbridge

Annual Convention of the Western Association to Gather There Beginning of Next Week.

Lethbridge, Alta.—Arrangements are now well in hand for the annual convention of the Western Canadian Irrigation Association to be held in Lethbridge, beginning August 5. Secretary Arthur Hooker, the leading organizer of the congress, is now travelling through the States of Oregon and Washington with a view to bringing a large delegation of American farmers to the convention. This year for the first time the Oregon Irrigation Congress will be officially represented at the Western Canada meeting. Lethbridge has now become one of the leading centres of the continent in this matter of irrigation, in view of the recent development of the two great irrigation systems of Southern Alberta. At the present time the best irrigation land in the vicinity of the city is quoted at prices ranging as high as $200 per acre; yet as a matter of fact most of the heaviest yields and prize-winning crops of this section in recent years have been from non-irrigated land.

Lloyd George Demands Reform in Rural Slums

Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George Wants Different Housing Conditions Established in England.

Lloyd George, in a speech which was described as sounding the call to his followers to his new campaign, laid special stress upon the urgency of a reform of housing conditions in the villages. He intimated that the inquiries he had been making into this subject would startle and appall the whole country. The report of the investigators whom he has been employing has not been yet published. It is held in reserve until the psychological moment for striking the blow. But, meanwhile, another government department, the local government board, has been making some inquiries on a small scale, for reasons quite unconnected with Lloyd George's forthcoming proposals. If the results are anything like a fair sample of the revelations that the chancellor of the exchequer will be making presently, the general public will, indeed, be shocked out of its present indifference. Somehow or other one has come to associate the slum problem with the big cities exclusively. When industrial expansion has crowded tens of thousands of persons together, and the development has been so rapid as to make any calculated system of "town planning" difficult, one naturally expects a certain amount of overcrowding. But in villages whose population is reckoned simply by hundreds, or even by scores, there is no excuse for congestion, and the very idea of it seems incredible.

Government Departments, however, are not concerned with what might be anticipated, but with what actually is. One of the chief functions of the board above mentioned is to see that the various local administrative bodies throughout the country carry out the duties imposed upon them by parliament. Recent legislation has included among these duties certain responsibilities with regard to housing accommodation and sanitary provisions generally. The board has had its suspicions awakened as to the alertness of some of these local authorities, and has sent medical inspectors to look into the matter.

North Devon has been one of the areas under investigation. In the whole kingdom there is no district that possesses greater natural advantages. Every summer thousands of visitors are attracted to the delightful scenery of its coast line or seek refreshment in the invigorating air of its moorlands. To the outsider this region has an unrivalled reputation, not only for its picturesque scenery, but for its health-giving properties. Year by year hundreds of city families spend their holidays there, and return with a new vigor and joie de vivre. Among the pleasant memories that they take back with them are mental pictures of quaint old-world cottages, with honey-suckle attachments ad lib, and all the rest of the idyllic apparatus that attracts the emotions of the sentimental poet or landscape painter.

The Old Fashioned Way

may have been all right when we had to pay high prices for the new fashioned.

Why not try the New Way? A Modern House should have a Tiled Bathroom. Just think what a sanitary, satisfying appearance Tile floors and walls would give you.

We have added a Tile Setting Department and have a large, varied stock to choose from and expert men will do your work. Scores of Modern Houses would have Tiled Floors and Walls in bathrooms, but the owners were either afraid of expense or didn't know how little they cost.

May we have the opportunity to quote YOU? See our booth at The Edmonton Exhibition. It will interest you.

Gorman, Clancey & Grindley Ltd.

752 Fourth St.

Phone 4563

Paperhanging Phone 4137 Kalsomining

CLARK & GALE

Painters and Decorators

649 Jasper West.

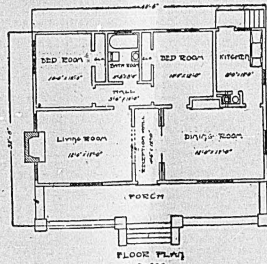

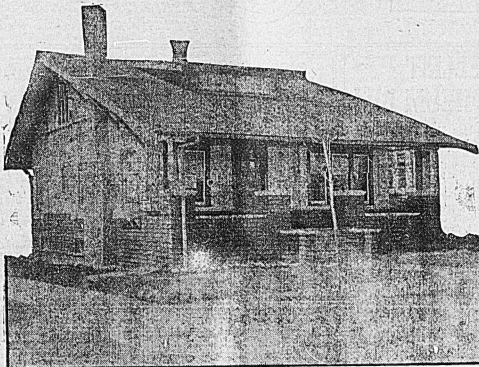

Wall Papering Done With the Greatest Skill and Despatch.

ROOMS PAPERED FOR $5.00 AND UP. Very choice new line of Papers just in. Come and see them.

Interior Finishing

House Painting

WHEN you build, build a real home. Presuming that you are a moderate man and have your home clear of debt, while you are paying for your home he is paying rent, money that is gone from him forever, and when you build it will pay you to give the building your personal attention, for when you buy a home you make a lifetime investment. Here is a small home for a man with average circumstances. This home can be built upon a lot of ordinary size, and it is a place that will be within the means of any man earning an average salary. Besides the reception hall there is nice large living room, with dining room, two bedrooms and bath, with buffet kitchen, and will be more convenient for the housewife than the ordinary style kitchen.

Estimate, cost and any further information will be given by the Home Beautiful Department of this paper.

The Home Beautiful Department has been established to aid those interested in building and real estate in and around our beautiful city. Our services are at your disposal free of charge. If you wish to ask any questions regarding any of the homes that we are featuring on this page, or real estate and building of any kind, address your enquiry to the Home Beautiful Department of the Edmonton Daily Capital, and it will receive prompt and careful attention. It will pay you to get in touch with the business concerns represented on this page, for they can supply your wants in anything pertaining to a home, and will give you perfect satisfaction.

Reliable Tin Work

for the new home is of the utmost importance. See us regarding the installation of furnaces, eave-troughs, tanks, ventilation, cornice and skylights. Hardware, tinwork and general repairing a specialty.

Young & Barry

TINSHOP

Phone 5623

243 Fraser Ave.

READY MADE COTTAGES

We can supply you with cottages, same as this one, with from 3 to 6 rooms, within a few days from receipt of order. These buildings are well put together, plastered, painted and finished complete and will be cozy and comfortable in the winter.

Mr. TENANT---Don't Pay Rent. See Us.

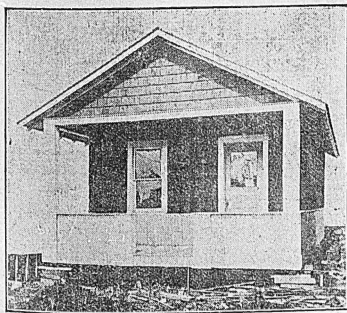

Mr. VACANT PROPERTY OWNER

Look into our proposition. It will pay taxes and a good interest on your investment. Call and we will show you plans of a number already completed.

THE ALBERTA LUMBER CO., LIMITED

Corner Clara and Jasper

Phone 2138-2176

SASKATOON

AND RETURN 10³⁰ FROM EDMONTON

For the Saskatoon Exhibition. Proportionately low fares from all stations in Alberta via the Canadian Northern Railway.

Tickets on sale August 2 to 8, Return Limit August 12, 1913.

"The Saskatoon Express" leaves Edmonton daily 8:55 p.m.; arrives Saskatoon daily 11:30 a.m. This train is equipped with most modern sleeping cars, electric reading lamps in upper and lower berths, and rotating fans keep the cars cool. Comfortable day coaches, dining cars. "C.N.R. Quality Service." Leaves from the heart of Edmonton, arrives in the heart of Saskatoon every 20 minutes during fair days. Fulliest information cheerfully furnished upon writing, phoning or calling on City Ticket agent, 48-49 Jasper Ave. East, Phone 1712.

Depot Ticket Agent, Phone 1719

SASKATOON

AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION

August 5th to 8th, 1913

EDMONTON TO SASKATOON & RETURN

$10.30

Tickets on sale August 2nd to 8th inc. Final return limit August 12th

2-DAILY TRAINS-2

"Prairie Express" leave at 5:40 p.m. Daily, carries Sleeper which is put off at Saskatoon, where passenger may remain until 8 a.m.

Full particulars from J. F. PHILP City Passenger Agent Phone 4057

153 Jasper E.

City Passenger Agent

Phone 4057

BILLS OFFER SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

LYCEUM PLAYERS TO GIVE COMEDY

"A Night Off" One of the Best Augustine Daly Productions.

LYCEUM—"A NIGHT OFF"
Professor Morrison—Frank Ireson.
Leander Medony—Barrow Le Paige.
Ernest Harwood—James Le Paige.
Dr. Watson—Carroll Ashburn.
Mr. Harwood—William Yule.
Mrs. Marshall—Emily Selwyn.
Ada—Grace Aylesworth.
Malinda—Marie Davidson.
Mrs. Dr. Marshall—Hazel Sloan.
A play that has never before been presented in Western Canada will be the offering at the Lyceum Theatre next week when the Toronto Players produce "A Night Off," one of the most delightful of the many comedies sent out by Augustine Daly. It secured a remarkable success at Daly's theatre, New York, where it remained two solid years.

To the present generation this play of over 20 years success is particularly interesting because it depicts a condition that exists in America today. It has frequently been said that ninety per cent. of the inhabitants of America are writing plays. Professor Morrison, the principal character in
"A Night Off" writes a play entitled
"The Siege of Troy," which introduces characters familiar to every reader of the classics. Leander Medony, an actor of the old school induces Morrison to produce the play in Morrison's home town. At the first and only performance, the audience, the audience delays the actors with refuse of every description.

"A Night Off" abounds in amusing situations and witty dialogue reminicent of the best plays of Charles Hoyt.
Constructed for laughing purposes only, this farce comedy provides entertainment for the most jaded business man. Matinees are played at the Lyceum every Wednesday and Saturday.

CALGARY'S STREET RAILWAY BOOMING

In Spite of Feeder Lines, Net Earnings for Month of June Are Increased.

Calgary, Aug. 2.—In spite of the fact that a large number of outlying feeder lines have been built during the last year, tending to reduce the profit per passenger carried, the net earnings of the Calgary municipal railway system for the month of June show $11,136.52 as the net earnings for the 80 days.

The gross earnings of the system for the month showed the large total of $69,967.85, as compared with $54,- 908.83 for June of last year, which is considered a very satisfactory increase.
Wages of motormen and conductors for the month of June amounted to $20,000, while the wages paid for the corresponding month of 1912 were only about $18,000. The increase is due to two things—the growth of the system, calling for the employment of more men, and the recent increase in wages which makes the employees of the Calgary municipal railway the highest paid of any city traction system, either public or private owned, in America.

SCENE FROM "A NIGHT OFF."

A real novelty, presented in a most attractive manner, is offered by Les Yost, known as "Whirlwind Sculptor in Clay." They are a young Frenchman and woman, whose original training was received in the ateliers of Paris, and who drifted, rather oddly,
to the music halls, where their skills
as modelers, coupled with a strong vein of humor, brought them fame at once. They, too, are commencing their first tour of the continent in Western Canada, having arrived on July 10 from Hamburg, on the Kaiser
Wilhelm der Grosse.

FLYING IN THE FACE OF PERIL.

An old negro woman on the banks of the James river, in Virginia, was afflicted with acute rheumatism.
When her physician commanded her to swallow several large quinine capsules, she obeyed. The doctor was frightened her nearly to death. After the doctor had left she lay on the bed and groaned about.

Her daughter, moved to compassion, finally took down the old woman's chimney pipe from the shelf, filled it with tobacco, and carried it to her in one hand, while in the other she held a red-hot coal with a pair of tongs.

"Bless me," she said, "Light up yon pipe, an' ease yose' wid a little smoke."

"Lawsdy," cried the old woman,
"Don't bring none ob dem live coals so close to me! Don't you know I just swallowed a lot ob carteridges?"
—Popular Magazine.

"My good woman, is your son an adventurer?"
"No'm, he's a cart driver,"—Baltimore American.

GREATEST WOMAN CELLIST
HEADS NEXT ORPHEUM BILL

Elsa Ruegger a Recruit from Concert Stage—Has Had Best Musical Education—English Ballet Will Be One of Empire Features.

Elsa Ruegger, unquestionably the greatest woman cellist in the world, is to be one of the headliners of the Orpheum vaudeville bill at the Empire theatre the first half of next week. It is interesting to note in this connection that her first appearance on the vaudeville stage was made at the same playhouse last season. The concert stage has suffered heavy loss through Miss Ruegger's desertion of it, and the theatre-going public is consequently the richer, for the little lady is a born musician, and supplements her talent with the best training on her particular instrument that the world can give—that at the Brussels conservatory. Acting as her conductor is Edmund Liechtenstein, the distinguished violinist, who has taught at the same famous institution, and whose presence in the orchestra pit insures a smooth performance at all times. Miss Ruegger's program will include the always welcome "Meditation" from Massenet's "Thais."

The arrival of a well-trained ballet troupe from England in an event so to provoke enthusiasm on the part of the local public, and so the Twelve Olympia Girls, the other headliners, will find an encouraging reception awaiting them. They are exquisitely trained, and have a series of character, or rather descriptive, dances, among them "The Inquisitive Moon" and "The Mirror Dance," each one beautifully staged and costumed. The troupe sailed on the Taurian from England on July 9, and are making their way direct to the Canadian Northwest, via Montreal.

Few actors are better known in Western Canada than Jack Kennedy, who became a favorite in this region a good many years ago, and is also entitled to distinction as the founder of the original stock company in Winnipeg. With Helen Warde and Chauncy Munroe, he is presenting a most interesting little sketch, entitled "A Business Proposal," written by Daniel D. Carter, whose drama, "The Master Mind," has earned one of New York's greatest recent successes. "A Business Proposal" is altogether unique in its underlying idea, and is admirably presented.

The public is always interested in good singing, and when the performers are three good-looking, clean-cut and skilled young men, then the enjoyment is greatly increased. And this description fits to a nicety Manning, Moore, and Armstrong. They are not only more than acceptable from the standpoint of musical perfection, but have exercised the best of judgment in choosing a repertoire.

Beth Kirk is one of the handsomest and best-dressed women on the stage.
Beside that, she can sing extremely well, and with her partner, Bill Fogarty, gives an altogether pleasing entertainment. As a prima donna with "The Heart Breakers" during her last Chicago run, Miss Kirk proved her ability in several directions, and it is not surprising that she should be making equally good in vaudeville.

Every child and every grown-up too, will enjoy Buckley's Animals. Not only are they most ingeniously trained from a technical standpoint—they are genuine comedians as well. Perhaps the leading favorite with most audiences is the Teddy bear, whose antics are very funny, but the dogs and the monkeys hold their own without difficulty.

A real novelty, presented in a most attractive manner, is offered by Les Yost, known as "Whirlwind Sculptor
in Clay." They are a young Frenchman and woman, whose original training was received in the ateliers of Paris, and who drifted, rather oddly,
to the music halls, where their skills
as modelers, coupled with a strong
vein of humor, brought them fame at once. They, too, are commencing
their first tour of the continent in Western Canada, having arrived on July 10 from Hamburg, on the Kaiser
Wilhelm der Grosse.

MOVING PICTURES ABOARD
SHIPS ARE COMING SOON

Film Manufacturers Expect to Be Able to Prove They Are Not Dangerous as Cause of Fire.

London, Aug. 2.—Trans-Atlantic liners may soon add another item to their list of home comforts. It is proposed to introduce moving pictures
as part of the entertainment of the voyage.

There has been a movement for the last year on the part of several large concerns to get concession from the steamship companies to allow film
shows on board, but it met with considerable opposition on account of the declaration of the fire insurance companies that the films were inflammable, and would increase the risks.

Within the next few days there will be another meeting of the North Atlantic conference at Liverpool, when promoters will try to show that their films are fireproof.

ORPHEUM NOTES.

The Orpheum circuit will soon boast of an aviator. Lincoln Beachy, the well known and successful high-flier, is about to start over the time with a turn consisting of motion pictures, showing some of his flights and in a lecture.

Loney Isakell, who has just completed a long Orpheum circuit tour as the exhibitor of Don, the talking dog, will somebody in New York the other day that his four-footed star now has a vocabulary that equals that of the average barber. "His telephone bills," added Mr. Isakell, "also compare favorably with those of this district city customer the phone company has."

Lida McMillan, who appeared here last winter as a feature of an Orpheum vaudeville bill in "The Late Mr. Allen," is now rehearsing "The Lingering Lady," a sketch written especially for her by Maurice Fulton, the famous American dancer.

A new Orpheum circuit sketch, with no less distinguished stars to appear in it than Catherine Calvert and Harry Mestayer, is called "To Save One Girl."
It was written by Paul Armstrong, author of "A Romance of the Underworld," "The Hair to the Hatch," "The Greyhound," etc.

Ben Budini, the clever juggler, who played here last February, is a man of versatile talent and much executive ability. He is in preparation for a musical organization in Madison, Wis.

Doris Wilson, and her two super sisters are making one of the New York summer hits. They are the girls who were seen over the present Orpheum circuit a few months ago in "The Antique Girl." Their present turn is so manipulated that people out in front are kept guessing as to whether Doris is playing in front of a mirror, or whether she has two fresh and bold assistants, so remarkable is the resemblance between the three.

George Hebin, the remarkable character actor, who has been achieving extraordinary success in London with his sketch, "The Sign of the Rose," has just been granted a privilege unprecedented in London theatrical annals.
His engagement at the Palladium has been extended one of the conditions being that in addition to this salary, he receives a percentage of the gross receipts of the house. He has been one of the most successful stars ever featured on the Orpheum circuit.

Frederick Warde, the famous Shakespearean actor, has in preparation a thirty-minute version of "King Lear," which he is preparing to present over the Orpheum circuit.

MOVING PICTURES ABOARD
SHIPS ARE COMING SOON

Film Manufacturers Expect to Be Able
to Prove They Are Not Dangerous as Cause of Fire.

London, Aug. 2.—Trans-Atlantic liners may soon add another item to their list of home comforts. It is proposed to introduce moving pictures
as part of the entertainment of the voyage.

There has been a movement for the last year on the part of several large concerns to get concession from the steamship companies to allow film
shows on board, but it met with considerable opposition on account of the declaration of the fire insurance companies that the films were inflammable, and
would increase the risks.

Within the next few days there will
be another meeting of the North Atlantic conference at Liverpool, when promoters will try to show that their films are fireproof.

HEADLINER AT PANTAGES
DRIVES HOME A MORAL

"The Devil, the Servant, the Man" Preaches the Sanctity of the Home
—Manager Gill and Wife, Elsie DeWolfe, Have Stellar Roles

One of the strongest morals possible and starts him on his way to kill his wife, whom "The Devil" has told him
is out with another man.

As "The Man" is about to leave his home, "The Servant" appears and his gentleness persuades "The Man"
that he has been misled, ultimately succeeding in undoing all the evil
"The Devil" had attempted. He awakes from his dream, a wiser and better man.

The playlet is not in any way far fetched. It has been seen by thousands of people and has always met
with approval.

The capable acting of Mr. Charles
L. Gill as "The Man" ensures the act being a success. There is a humanness in his acting—there is that in his bearing, when he so wishes it, that is intensely pathetic; in fact it is doubtful if anyone can play a more pathetic role with more innate feeling to the great playlet.

In the other members of the cast,
Mr. Gill has secured capable actors.
His wife, Miss Elsie De Wolfe, who played with Mr. Gill in the act, practically the whole of the time it was on the circuit, will take a prominent part.
Grant Churchhill and Irvin Cook are
the other members of the cast.

PERFUME MAY BE
SOUL FRAGRANCE

May Express One's Personality If Correct
Odors Are Combined.

An expertly gowned woman of 33
or so leaned over the counter of the department store, her eyes closed, her
head thrown slightly back.

The clerk before her took, one by one, the great glass stoppers from the perfume jars in front of her and forthwith moved them slowly back and forth
under madame's aristocratic little nose.
"Put that to one side," she said, "and
take the label on the jar." "Lemon verona
and rose." "That is just what I wanting to get just what I have known."
You see," she continued graciously, "I think each person must have a combination of odors to express herself.
I knew I wanted heliotrope and jasmine, but that wasn't quite enough. I can't exactly explain, but that seemed like sweetness and dignity without
character."

The girl looked blank but continued
to measure out the precious drops.
Madame started to say something more and then shrugged her shoulders
and waited patiently for the package.

This woman's anxiety to get a perfume that expressed herself is not at all unusual, according to the girls
who sell these sweet and fragrant scents.
They say that day after day women come in and spend hours trying to get just the right combination of three or four different odors.

For blondes one or two perfume fumes are enough. And the theory has long been advanced that a blonde
should choose one perfume only—usually that of a flower rather than a combination of the incense or vegetable gas odors.

A brunette, however, is more complex—not as easy to read at first sight,
and for her it is necessary to choose
a combination of perfumes—strange,
violet, and hyacinth—scents which
mystify and baffle those about her.

HEADLINER AT PANTAGES
DRIVES HOME A MORAL

"The Devil, the Servant, the Man" Preaches the Sanctity of the Home
—Manager Gill and Wife, Elsie DeWolfe, Have Stellar Roles

One of the strongest morals possible and starts him on his way to kill his wife, whom "The Devil" has told him
is out with another man.

As "The Man" is about to leave his home, "The Servant" appears and
his gentleness persuades "The Man"
that he has been misled, ultimately succeeding in undoing all the evil
"The Devil" had attempted. He awakes
from his dream, a wiser and better
man.

The playlet is not in any way far fetched. It has been seen by thousands of people and has always met
with approval.

The capable acting of Mr. Charles
L. Gill as "The Man" ensures the act
being a success. There is a humanness in his acting—there is that in his
bearing, when he so wishes it, that is
intensely pathetic; in fact it is doubtful if anyone can play a more pathetic
role with more innate feeling to the
great playlet.

In the other members of the cast,
Mr. Gill has secured capable actors.
His wife, Miss Elsie De Wolfe, who played with Mr. Gill in the act, practically the whole of the time it was on
the circuit, will take a prominent part.
Grant Churchhill and Irvin Cook are
the other members of the cast.

PERFUME MAY BE
SOUL FRAGRANCE

May Express One's Personality If Correct
Odors Are Combined.

An expertly gowned woman of 33
or so leaned over the counter of the department store, her eyes closed, her
head thrown slightly back.

The clerk before her took, one by
one, the great glass stoppers from the perfume jars in front of her and forth-
with moved them slowly back and forth
under madame's aristocratic little nose.
"Put that to one side," she said, "and
take the label on the jar." "Lemon verona
and rose." "That is just what I wanting to get just what I have known."
You see," she continued graciously, "I think each person must have a combination of odors to express herself.
I knew I wanted heliotrope and jasmine, but that wasn't quite enough. I can't exactly explain, but that seemed
like sweetness and dignity without
character."

The girl looked blank but continued
to measure out the precious drops.
Madame started to say something
more and then shrugged her shoulders
and waited patiently for the package.

This woman's anxiety to get a perfume that expressed herself is not at all unusual, according to the girls
who sell these sweet and fragrant scents.
They say that day after day women
come in and spend hours trying to get just the right combination of
three or four different odors.

For blondes one or two perfume
fumes are enough. And the theory has long been advanced that a blonde
should choose one perfume only—
usually that of a flower rather than a combination of the incense or vegetable
gas odors.

A brunette, however, is more complex—not as easy to read at first sight,
and for her it is necessary to choose
a combination of perfumes—strange,
violet, and hyacinth—scents which
mystify and baffle those about her.

LAUGHS 16 HOURS
AT ANCIENT JOKE

Man, Unable to Stop Risibility, Is Taken to Emergency Hospital to Stop.

Milwaukee, August 2.—"If you were my husband, I'd give you poison."

"And if you were my wife, I'd take it."

Is there anything so comical in this veteran vaudeville joke that should make its hearer convulse with mirth for more than three consecutive seconds?
Everybody who has heard it will probably answer "no."

But the quip found a real victim in Julius Jeswein, of Milwaukee. Jes-wein laughed for sixteen consecutive hours after hearing it.

Jeswein attended a vaudeville show.
He had not seen much "novelty," and as a result is unfamiliar with the general run of jokes and witticisms to which the poor public is being constantly subjected.

Jeswein is a healthy, good natured man and laughs easily and freely, in fact. Every thing funny and allegedly funny he found humor in and his outbursts of mirth attracted much attention.

It was during the third act, when a young lady and a handsome young man and her partner for the benefit of a heretofore comatose audience. From the start the dialogue was comic and it became funnier to Jeswein every minute. He laughed long and long at everything said by the team and when the "if you were my husband" fami-liarism came along he almost had a fit, he laughed so loud at the first part he was compelled to ask a neighbor what the remark was.

When informed, he let out a roar that shook the building. The confused audience imagined it would cease, but it did not. Jeswein kept on laughing until the act was forced to discontinue.
The audience alarmed, Jeswein was remonstrated with, but kept right on laughing.

Finally it was seen that he could not stop and he was removed to Emergency hospital.

There, although the physicians did everything in their power to quell his tickled risibilities, Jeswein still laughed.

Four hours he "ha-ha-ed" and "he-he-ed" and the physicians were at a loss. He could not stop for a second and it was finally determined that he only needed would be to put him to sleep. Morphine injections were given him, but he laughed. More narcotics were administered, but the echoing sound of his wailing and exhausted cavils still strained into mirth, rebelling the kindly efforts.

Jeswein was rapidly becoming exhausted. He no longer laughed heartily, but as though it caused him pain.
When asked if he could cease his mirth
he answered with a shake of his head that caused the sound of his laugh to vibrate in different directions.

After all hope was abandoned Jeswein's hoarse vocal cords seemed suddenly to collapse under the terrible strain. The laugh died down into a few moaning groans and he slept peacefully.

When he awoke, hours later, he explained what had caused the mirth convulsion. "He also said he had heard the joke for the first time."

ELSA RUEGGER.

Headlining the Orpheum vaudeville bill, Empire Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY WITH HAY FEVER

Until "Fruit-a-lives" Completely Cured Her

MRS. HENRY KEMP.
CORWALL, CENTRAL ONT., NOVEMBER 27th, 1911.
"I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and took their treatment—and I tried every remedy I heard of as a cure for Hay Fever. But nothing did me any good. Then I tried "Fruit-a-lives" and this remedy cured me completely. I am now well, and I wish to say to every sufferer from Hay Fever—'Try Fruit-a-lives'. This fruit medicine cured me when every other treatment failed and I believe it is a perfect cure for this dreadful disease!"
MRS. HENRY KEMP.
Box 6, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

BART WHEAT CUTTING.
Morden, Man., Aug. 1.—James Paterson, who lives just east of town started wheat cutting yesterday. The grain is the Marquis variety and although the crops in this district are light owing to the dry weather throughout the summer, the field will average over 20 bushels to the acre.

Lyceum Theatre
Phone 1849 Jasper Ave.
The Home of High Class Dramatic Stock.
The Toronto Players Present
Marie Cora's Dramatic Masterpieces
"THELMA"
Superb Scene Production POPULAR PRICES
Evenings 25c, 50c and 1.00.
Wednesday and Saturday Matinees: Adults, 25c; Children, 16c.

W. B. SHERMAN
BENT RUSSELL
THE STANDARD OF VAUDEVILLE
PHONE 2185

Three Days Commencing August 4
The World's Greatest Woman 'Goddess'
ELSA RUEGGER
Assisted by Edmond Hochenstein.
JACK KENNEDY AND COMPANY
In "A Business Proposal." By Daniel D. Carter.
MNNING, MOORE AND ARMSTRONG
A Trio of Singing Lads.
BUCKLEY'S ANIMALS
Introducing "Freddy."
KIRK AND FOGARTY
Patter and Song.
LES YOST
Whirlwind Scapulars.
Extra Added Headline Attraction.
THE OLYMPIA GIRLS
Pats of London, in Novel and Artistic Dancing.
WORLD'S NEWS VIEWS Interesting Events in Pictures.
Matinee Daily at 2:30 25c, 50c and 1.00.
Evenings at 8:30 25c, 50c and 1.00.
All Seats Reserved One Week in Advance.

PANTAGES UNEQUALLED VAUDEVILLE
NEXT WEEK
CHARLES GILL AND COMPANY
In the Dramatic Sensation of the Century
"The Devil, the Servant, the Man"
CHARLES RILEY
And his Beautiful Dancing Girls
FOUR OTHER SPECIAL FEATURES

MEDICINE HAT IS SURE OF GAS FOR ABOUT A CENTURY

(And That is Figuring Only on Comparatively Small Proven Field.)

ALSO ESTIMATED FOUR TIMES THE RATE USED

No Telling How Unlimited the Supply May Be When All of the Territory Has Been Explored For It.

Medicine Hat, August 2.—The first question a stranger asks when he comes to this city and notes the apparently unlimited supply of natural gas here, is "How long will it last?" W. R. Martin, of this city, who has resided in Alberta for nine years, and has been in the gas well drilling business for 25 years, all over the North and South American continents, including four provinces of Canada, 38 states of the United States, and Mexico, makes the statement that if the consumption was four times what it is today in Medicine Hat it would last for at least 90 years. On this subject, Mr. Martin gives the following particulars in proof of his assertion.

Medicine Hat's natural gas field has been proved by actual drilling to the east and for 14 miles east and west and for 10 miles north and south. This does not take into consideration anything outside of those boundaries, and the figures given below refer only to this absolutely proven territory. It is not known how much larger the field is, as nothing but the drill bit can reveal this, which is the only method of ascertaining exact gas strata fields.

Genuine Gas Sand Reached.
At a depth of about 900 feet, after drilling through what is known as the shallow gas sand at about 750 feet, the genuine Medicine Hat gas sand is reached. This gas strata is 18 feet in depth, though some of it is not productive. Six feet of this is No. 1 gas sand, which is 35 per cent. porous or void, the gas being in the voids. This void approximately two cubic feet of void under each square foot of surface. According to Felt's law, each cubic foot gives 41 cubic feet of gas at 600 pounds rock pressure to the square inch.

Now, then, as there are approximately 28,000,000 square feet in a section here in the future, per of those outside of the 10 by 14 mile limit now in use. It should be remembered that, in the use of gas in Medicine Hat, increasing every year with the industrial and municipal growth—the average rock pressure of from 550 to 600 pounds to the square inch and the average flow of approximately 3,000,000 cubic feet from each well here, has never varied materially. There are a dozen wells in the city and the contract for nine more gas wells, recently awarded by the municipality, to keep pace with the substantial industrial expansion, is now being carried on.

Regarding comparisons with other fields, especially the Indiana fields, which have gradually diminished, it should be remembered that the Indiana fields were infinitely smaller than the Medicine Hat proven fields, and that there was a population drawing on that field that is as great as that of the entire population of the Dominion of Canada, or about 8,000,000. Estimating on the same basis, at the end of 369 years there may be industries operated by natural gas, even then, in Medicine Hat.

New Treatment Now Advocated For Bronchitis

Is Having Wonderful Success, and is Making Most Remarkable Cures.

For bronchitis a different form of treatment is now advocated. It consists of a scientifically devised vapor that penetrates to the uttermost recesses of the lungs and bronchial tubes. Every spot that is sore, every surface that is irritated is at once bathed with soothing balsams and healing essences that make chronic bronchitis an impossibility.

This treatment now so universally employed in bronchitis, throat troubles, colds, etc., is called CATARRHOZONE. It acts just as air of the pine woods acts, as a healing and soothing remedy for all diseases of the breathing organs.

Just think of it—a remedy that can be carried with the very air you breathe to the seat of bronchitis or catarrhal inflammation. A remedy powerful enough to kill germ life and yet so healing that disease flees before it. Catarrhozone is truly a wonderful remedy. In many lands it has won its way, and is affording grand results to sufferers from colds, catarrh, throat weakness, asthma and bronchitis. There is no sufferer from a grippiness or any winter ill that won't find a cure in Catarrhozone, which is employed by physicians, ministers, lawyers and public men throughout many foreign lands. Large size lasts two months and costs $1.00, and is guaranteed; small size 50c, sample size 50c, all stockholders and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

thorities at 2,500,000 cubic feet. To be seen on the safe side in figuring—for no one can tell in advance what the consumption will be in the future—we will put the population at 60,000 or four times the present population, and also quadruple the consumption to 10,000,000 cubic feet daily through industrial and domestic use. Dividing 330,624,000,000 by 10,000,000 gives us 33,062 days of life for the Medicine Hat natural gas field, based on a consumption of 10,000,000 cubic feet daily—four times the actual consumption today. After dividing 33,062 days by the number in a year, 365, brings the result of a little over 90 years for the life of the Medicine Hat gas field. If we figure it at the present rate of use, it will last exactly 360 years—or is to say in most cases we will have any special use for this heaven-sent blessing.

Not including Other Fields.

In the above estimates no account whatever is taken of what may be had from other gas fields to be found near here in the future, nor of those outside of the 10 by 14 mile limit now in use.

It should be remembered that, in the use of gas in Medicine Hat, increasing every year with the industrial and municipal growth—the average rock pressure of from 550 to 600 pounds to the square inch and the average flow of approximately 3,000,000 cubic feet from each well here, has never varied materially. There are a dozen wells in the city and the contract for nine more gas wells, recently awarded by the municipality, to keep pace with the substantial industrial expansion, is now being carried on.

Regarding comparisons with other fields, especially the Indiana fields, which have gradually diminished, it should be remembered that the Indiana fields were infinitely smaller than the Medicine Hat proven fields, and that there was a population drawing on that field that is as great as that of the entire population of the Dominion of Canada, or about 8,000,000. Estimating on the same basis, at the end of 369 years there may be industries operated by natural gas, even then, in Medicine Hat.

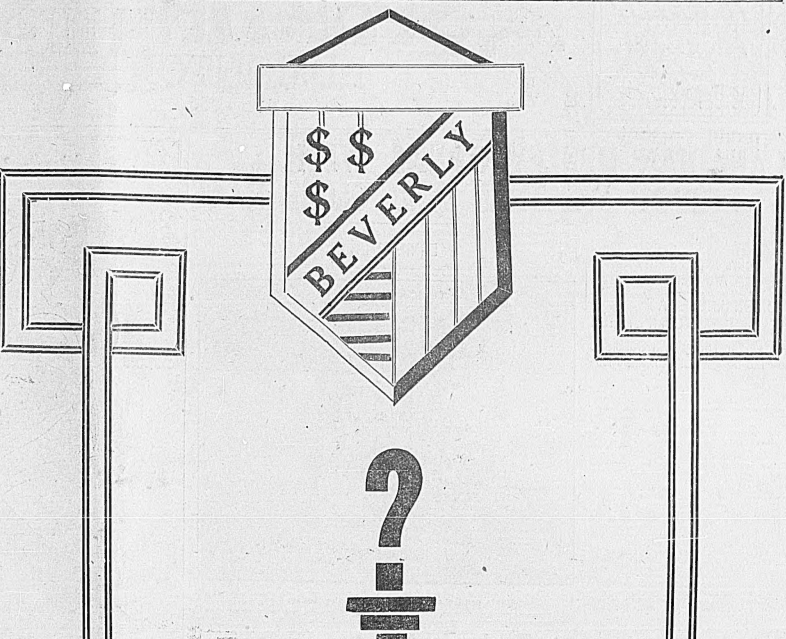

VEGREVILLE WILL GET AN ELEVATOR

It Is Expected That All Grain Records for the District Will Be Broken.

Vegreville, Alta., Aug. 2.—At the annual meeting of the Farmers' Grain & Produce Co., Limited, held in Vegreville a few days ago, it was pointed out that while the company was in good shape financially, it was handicapped by lack of sufficient elevator accommodation. The machinery also is not such as to make for economical handling of grain. A number of those present were in favor of the government co-operative elevator plan, and with that end in view, the meeting was adjourned.

It is probable that such an elevator will be built. In the meantime, an expert will go over the old elevator and put it into good shape to handle this season's crop.

EDMONTON LARGEST PICTURE THEATRE PICTURES WORTH SEEING EXTENSIVE
starting Monday, August 4.
REFINED MUSICALS
In addition to the Regular Program
MISS MILDRED WEBB
Singing the latest SONG REVIEWS.
Monday and Tuesday
Vignettes
"THE WEB"
A Remarkable Dramatic Story.
Other Interesting Photo Plays.

BEVERLY HOMES
Have you Received Our Card
That entitles you to Enter as a Contestant for the $300.00 Building Lot which we are giving away FREE?
Write or call for full Particulars
Robertson-Davidson Ltd.
40 JASPER AVE. EAST

CANDY FACTORY AT MEDICINE HAT

City Gives Liberal Concessions and Fine Plant Will Be Erected.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Aug. 2.—John H. Taber, of Lethbridge, who recently received liberal concessions from the city of Medicine Hat for the location and construction of a candy manufacturing business, has been in the city for two days, and states that he has completed his organization, the company having elected the following officers: President, W. H. Holt; Vice-president, Charles Egan; Secretary, John H. Taber; Treasurer, Charles Egan; Directors, Hamilton Morrow, of Medicine Hat, and E. Marks, of Lethbridge. Announcement is made that the active work of construction of the factory building, two stories and basement of brick, will be started in the near future by the concern, to be known as the J. H. Taber Candy Co., Ltd. Mr. Taber, the managing director, has been connected with the confectionery manufacturing business for many years, being at one time vice-president of the White Candy Co., Ltd., of St. John, N.B., and latterly residing at Lethbridge. He states that the outlook for trade in his line in the Canadian west is the brightest, and he expects to build up a large business here for the prairie provinces, employing 25 hands at the beginning.

CALGARY VALUES UP $18,000,000

Worth of Land in City Has Increased Greatly in the Last Year.

Calgary, Aug. 2.—That land values in the city of Calgary have advanced more than $18,000,000 since the last assessment, in 1912 is the report which has just been made to the city council by Richard Wallace, the Calgary assessor.

Aside from the tremendous increase in real and property values, a perusal of the figures strikes the observer with the fact that Calgary's revenue is now pretty close to a single tax basis. The total assessment for both land and buildings is $149,973,918. Of this amount $120,801,558 is represented by land which last year was valued at $102,560,915. The balance of the total, $29,172,960, represents buildings, but the taxpayers do not pay taxes on this amount. Some time ago it was decided to put the principle of the shrie tax into effect in Calgary and as a result, owners of buildings only pay taxes on 25 per cent. of their assessed value, and not on the total.

BOX FACTORY DESTROYED

Halifax, Aug. 2.—The box factory of the Sable Lumber Company, at Wilkin Siding, 18 miles west of Liverpool, N.S., was destroyed by fire last evening and 300,000 feet of lumber burned. The fire broke out at 7 o'clock from some unknown cause and spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything. The loss will be about $50,000.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

THI Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury, Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifying the blood. 25c a box at your druggist.

This year, then, the total assessment in Calgary for taxable purposes will be $128,991,648, made up as follows:
Land $120,801,558
Buildings 87,293,090
Total $208,094,648

FOOTBALL
LACROSSE
ATHLETICS
GOLF

SPORTING SECTION

EDMONTON THE CAPITAL

BASEBALL
BOXING
CRICKET
TENNIS

CANADIAN HENLEY OPENS WITH GOOD WEATHER AND CLOSE RACE

First Two Heats of 140-pound Fours Argos and Dons Are Winners.

JUNIOR SINGLES A CLOSE COMPETITION Draw for Today Will Conclude the Biggest of Canada's Regattas.

Port Huron, Aug. 2.—With perfect weather conditions the Canadian Henley Regatta opened yesterday afternoon. The water is smooth with a refreshing southerly breeze. The crowd of spectators is the best as yet seen at this regatta. The first heat of the 140-pound fours the Dons rowed well and the Argos had a slight lead at the bow and won by about four lengths, with the Dons in the lead at the stern. The time was 1:12.5.

The start in the second heat was fair, with the Dons steering towards the buoy. The Dons were ahead of the Argos, rowing well with a good lead of three seconds at a distance of a mile from the finish. The Dons won by about four lengths, with St. John's and Ottawa following. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

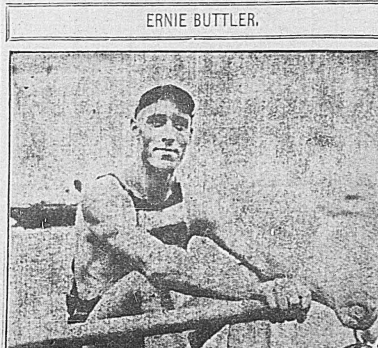

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

The first heat of the Junior singles the crews got off to a good start. Finlay, of the Dons, rowing well and steadily away. He was 20 seconds ahead of the Argos and won at a distance of a mile from the finish. The time was 1:15.

Single sculler at the Canadian Henley today.

Today's Henley Draws

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 2.—Following is the draw for Saturday at the Canadian Henley Regatta:

2:30 p.m. Intermediate fours final—Argos vs. Dons.

3:15 p.m. Junior doubles final—Finlay vs. Dons.

3:45 p.m. Senior fours final—Argos vs. Dons.

4:15 p.m. Junior fours final—Argos vs. Dons.

4:45 p.m. Senior fours final—Argos vs. Dons.

SPORT COMMENT

Dad Naughton of the San Francisco Examiner, and a sculler at one of the fastest experts of America, has started recently a discussion with himself as to who is the greatest sculler the world has ever known. Dad has a practice of noting his case with a pencil on which an argument against his own opinion may be based, and after studying that work around to his own opinion. Dad's studies are more interesting as essays in argument than as opinions on sport, although even in a question of sport Naughton is a matter of weight.

Naughton's weekly discussions on lights and fighters are read in every city on the American continent and half the sport writers in the country base any statements they may make on his opinions or at best note where their opinions lie in the light of what he has learned his.

This week Naughton takes the bull by the horns when he claims that George Dixon was the greatest sculler the world has ever known. Naughton will find that his selection will arouse a greater difference of opinion than had he selected some more modern fighter. Tom Sayers and Ned Baldwin, who lived about the same time as Dixon, are men whom the present generation never knew and the sporting editor of the Capital has no record of them.

Old timers in the fight game contend that Dixon was no better than these and several others and Naughton presumes their claims by mentioning Dixon's contemporaries and apologetically disparaging the opinions of such old time fans as remember them.

In making his selection Naughton adopts the plan of counting by numbers, the formidable fighters defeated by each claimant. He counts Jim Jeffries out on the ground that when Jeffries defeated his formidable opponents they were on the down grade.

If Naughton went over Bob Fitzsimmons' career with a closed eye he would find that he had defeated almost as great number of formidable opponents as Dixon and that he had some almost insurmountable handicaps to overcome.

The organization of the Edmonton Club at a meeting on Wednesday night is the first step in the development of a new form of athletics in the Province of Alberta. For the first time aquatic sports have never received so much attention in Alberta, with the result that the club is going to a lake or river of sufficient size and placidity of surface to make boating a safe and pleasant pastime without a great deal of trouble.

The development of the country in all directions around Edmonton has made transportation to several lakes easy, with the result that the club will now be a success, whereas a few years ago it would have been a hopeless undertaking.

Now there are two or three lakes or rivers close enough to Edmonton to make the holding of a regatta a possible and profitable undertaking.

First there is the Sturgeon River, where the newly organized Canoe Club proposes to lay the scene of

I SHOULD WORRY.

Since Bill Carey left Western Canada this country has been without a real bad man of baseball until Bill Carey developed the Curvaceous characteristics this season.

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

A fan said Paddy Moran. If he can't hit the ball. All the time. It's a crime. To shut him out. But an ump. Is inside of the law. And a bump. On the left lower jaw. It's coming to him. For his eyesight is dim. And what he could see. He won't give him a bat on the rim. So please give him a bat on the rim.

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

"I should worry, like a penicillin and put out to see Bill gets on the rampage," says Manager Red Redmond. "Somehow I just don't seem to be able to let Bill worry me."

A BONE OF CONTENTION

Hall Chase traded by Frank Chance recently. Chance has recently raised a protest that he was bunked.

SAID HE WAS DRUNK.

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 2.—The manager of the St. Thomas baseball team was put out of the ball park this afternoon for having threatened to protest the game on account of a decision of Umpire Jacobson at second base, and accusing the umpire of being drunk.

AMERICAN TENNIS.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Clarence Griffin, California's latest tennis marvel, up-held the reputation of his state yesterday by qualifying for western championship finals through a victory in his hard match of the tournament, over William Blair, of Lake Geneva. 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

FUN FOR THE FANS.

'THE BIGGEST MAN IN BASEBALL'

RAIN PITCHERS DOGS & CATS

STRIKE THREE!

BASEBALL SCORES AFFECT THE HEAD SAYS A PROF.

WANTED PITCHERS OUT WEST

ME FOR THE CHOO-CHOO RIGHT OFF

HOORAY!

ENTITLED, "THE BONEHEAD"

FAMOUS TIGHTWADS

HANS WAGNER

TIGHT BECAUSE HE CAN MAKE $125 GO FARTHEST

WANTED PITCHERS OUT WEST

ME FOR THE CHOO-CHOO RIGHT OFF

HOORAY!

THEN THE BILL POSTER FINISHED

DIXON PICKED AS GREATEST OF FIGHTERS

W. W. Naughton Makes Selection of World's Greatest Heavyweight Pugilists.

BOB FITZSIMMONS SECOND CHOICE Says Willie Ritchie Is Not a Great Fighter But May Be Some Day.

(By W. W. Naughton) San Francisco, August 2.—Now it is a "fight fan" living in Windsor, Ont., who wishes to draw me out on certain points.

In a letter dated July 15 he says: "Seeing in last Sunday's Detroit News-Tribune that you answered a question put by some fight fan as to who, in your opinion, was the most perfect Australian boxer, I wish to ask you consider was the greatest fighter of all time. If you do not see to answer that, would you please state who you consider the greatest boxer of all time?"

"I'll do the best I can, and, to show you I am not inclined to skirt the issue I will answer both your questions. It so happens that in replying to the question, I reply to both, for the greatest fighter who ever lived, according to my idea, was a negro. And his name was George Dixon."

An individual opinion. It will be as well for you to remember, Mr. Windsor fight fan, that this is merely an expression of individual opinion. There are no standards by which these questions can be worked out and settled with mathematical exactness. Nor is there anything on the face of the earth on which both layman and experts disagree more than the question of merit in pugilism. This because fighting appeals to the emotions. It arouses enthusiasm and creates heroes and idols.

I have no doubt there is still in existence a smattering of very old-timers who will snort at the idea of Tom Sayers and Ned O'Baldwin and Donnelly and Cooper being passed over in a discussion of this kind for a slim limbed yellow skin like little Ben. But he is my choice.

I name George Dixon because I believe he triumphed over a greater number of formidable opponents than any other man I ever heard of.

Some fighters had their run for the championship gold when they had to cope with men on the downward grade. This was notably the case with Jim Jeffries. He defeated Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Corbett and Peter Jackson when each of these was well past his prime in a fighting sense. Whether or not he could have beaten them had he met them at their best I do not know.

I do know, however, that the world was raked and scraped for opponents for little Chocolate Dixon. He met the best men of the various fighting countries, when they held the championships of their various sections, and when it was made as close as possible there was nothing left in their own countries that could compare with them. And he went through it all, like sunlight through a chink in a bar.

About Willie Ritchie. Here is one fired at me from a point near home.

"How does Willie Ritchie compare with the lightweight champions who preceded him?"

To do that he does not need to compare in the slightest. Ritchie is still young and lacking in experience, however, and may learn up as more of a world figure in pugilism when he has killed himself against men like Tom Murphy, Freddy Welsh and Leah Cross. Worst of all, who preceded him as a champion, was a wonderful fighter, a superbly skilled man, and it was his handling of Battling Nelson on Richmond Field was something to live in memory, even if he had never accomplished anything else.

Battling Nelson, in his prime, was an interesting performer and it was his negative qualities that made him win. There never was a man with 20 pounds of his weight who could stand such rough usage and keep pressing steadily forward.

Joe Gans was a thorough workman and a sight of him in action was as good a treat as a student of boxing could desire. He slipped round in a soft-footed way and was never out of position. His manner of coming in at a downward clip of his right, delivered without drawing back the elbow, was well worth the price of admission.

Two Other Pugs. He was an artist, and it was a lament with old-time fans that Joe and Battling did not flourish contemporaneously. A little before the war he would have been worth a journey to see.

In answering the question put to me, reader, has required that I give out to certain colored boxers. A little reflection will make it evident to all that the question of the negro has been more prominent than any other race in pugilism during the past quarter of a century.

(Continued on Next Page.)

GADZUPS BUT WHAT A MESS THERE WAS WHEN THEY TRIED TO PLAY

Side Shows Abounded When Saskatoon Walloped the Birds Twelve to One in Worst Bad Game Seen in Years—Birds Have Got Rid of Enough Bad Play to Last Whole Season.

The worst game of ball that has been played on the Edmonton diamond in a long time is the only way to describe the scheduled contest last night. The score was 12 to 1 in favor of Saskatoon.

Put Dellar in the box for the home team started all right but after two innings faded and was hit almost at will. From the second until the end it was a terrible slaughter. The birds were disgraced.

Compare with the class of ball played Thursday, in the two games with Moose Jaw and the series with Calgary, the play last night was of the worst. The team played badly; the umpire was as bad as they; there were some loud moaners and foul language; everything unpleasant for many fans as well as for themselves; a brown eagle wandered all over the diamond; the grass continued to grow in the outfield; Dellar had no control; almost everything was wrong.

It was one of those terrible slugs which occasionally will strike a team and after which it usually plays better ball.

Attracted by the prospects of a big lot series as indicated by the first game, the fans turned out in large bunches. They were disappointed and many left about the sixth or seventh inning when operations were at their worst.

Umpire McDonald might have called the game at the end of the eighth, but he persisted. During the ninth, the fans lighted a large fire of oil paper in order that the players might see the ball.

The Quakers scored their runs by hitting and running and by reason of a number of errors.

A pleasant time was not had.

The box score is as follows:

Edmonton. AB. R. H. PO. A. E.
Moran, 1b. 3 0 0 4 0 0
O'Brien, 2b. 3 0 0 2 1 4
Whitman, 3b. 0 1 1 0 1 0
Buell, s. 4 0 0 2 2 1
Duffy, 4th. 4 0 1 0 0 0
Redmond, 5th. 2 2 2 0 0
Povey, rf. 4 0 1 0 1 0
Spencer, c. 3 1 0 3 2
Dellar, p. 3 0 1 1 1 1

Totals. 33 1 5 27 15 5
AB. R. H. PO. A. E.
Gunn, 1b. 5 0 1 0 0 0
Cruikshanks, rf. 5 0 1 0 0 0
Kelly, cf. 4 1 2 0 0 0
Chick, 2b. 5 2 4 1 4
Harris, 3b. 2 2 4 1 0
Harris, 3b. 3 0 3 0 0 0
Mills, c. 5 2 4 1 0
Wallace, c. 4 2 0 0 0
Bier, p. 5 0 1 1 4 1

Totals. 30 12 16 27 7 3

Score by innings:
Edmonton. 001 000 003-12
Saskatoon. 000 010 003-12

Summary—Two base hits—Wallace, Gunn, Redmond, Harris, Dellar, Home run—Mills, by Dellar, 2; by Bier, 3. Base on balls—Off Bier, 0; off Dellar, 3. Hits by Quakers—Spencer, 4; Kelly, 2; O'Brien, 1; Harris, 1; Wallace, 1; Spencer, 1; Kelly, 1; Wallace, 1; Time—1:15. Umpire—McDonald. Attendance—1,400.

Men Whom Baseball Has Made Rich

NOT BOOTED
ALL POSSIBLE
DUST CHANCES

Medicine Hat Takes a Fall Out of Red Legs by Score of Ten to Three.

Medicine Hat, Aug. 2.—In a game marked by fairly good pitching by Rankin and Brown, but which was robbed of its interest by both teams booting everything which came in their way, the hat defeated the Red Legs by a 10 to 3 score.

There was a rather exciting game, as both players and fans became excited over the players' decisions and Rankin and Brown were the main attraction.

In the fifth inning Rankin was hit by a ball and was put out of the game. Since Manager Dunn related to pay Morris a fine put on him for having used recently at Calgary, he had been lying down. Today he was so that Manager Dunn put him out of the game and will likely suspend him, possibly for the balance of the season.

Errors committed by his gave the hat in the sixth. The locals made a good start in the first inning, but they were not to rest. After three was dismissed, Manager Dunn used four pitchers in the field, and kept put up a better game than any of the regulars. Score: Medicine Hat. 10; Red Legs. 3. 5-6. Medicine Hat. 012 020 103-10. 3-6. Red Legs. 001 000 003-3. Rankin and Brown out.

They stroked through the park. Yesterday they were in luck. They had been scheduled to play at Medicine Hat, but they had not time to school together to the game. Suddenly a shunder passed over the town and the game was postponed.

The game is that men without putting sound again," he breathed, "I fear that a ball has carried out of my throat and the game is over. I am a low, low-down on all sides, draw closer and closer. I had the words left his lips when dark figures appeared in the distance. "Jack Dalton's hitting, began," cried "Not at all," one made answer. "We are for two hours. Over, here, by here. They finally."

They were in luck. They had been scheduled to play at Medicine Hat, but they had not time to school together to the game. Suddenly a shunder passed over the town and the game was postponed.

Johnson's salary has climbed from $3,000 a year to $25,000, or so the American League magnates say without blushing.

Johnson prides himself upon being the director of baseball. As president of his league, he is a member of the national commission, and the third member thereof is August Hermann of Cincinnati, who voices with Johnson, because this gives Johnson unlimited power, which he knows how to use and he keeps Hermann jolted until the hero of many breakfast dinners were a perpetual snore.

Johnson is credited with forcing G. W. Murphy who worked with Johnson in Cincinnati and now owns the Cubs, to give Joe Tinker to Cincinnati and permit Frank Chance to go to the American League by threatening to tell some things he knew.

This is called "politics" by some and "diplomacy" by others. There is another name, but it is not mentioned in polite circles.

Pete Johnson has quarreled with Comiskey, and while the scrap lasted Byron never looked the same. Before he was a lover of peace, he was always ready to have friends bring about a handshaking festival at which he and his mentor counted old wars.

While Comiskey enjoys his health Johnson will continue to be a baseball star, but it is said to think what would happen should the old Roman decline to retire.

Johnson introduced Mexican justice to baseball; his supreme court is a regular five-man court with a piker. He punishes players with an umpire's report, without hearing the player's side.

Just as easily as he put the cap in controls, Johnson suspended play with no more investigation than a telegram from the umpire whose feelings were being ruffled.

A great starter but a poor finisher is the Philadelphia executive. He started the clock and umpire scandal investigations, but the only finish the public saw was an agreement with white-wash that it was not recognizable. It is said, though, that the end suited Johnson, as he obtained what he was after, very much as a politician does, and his best expression, "For the good of the game," answered a multitude of questions.

Johnson's salary has climbed from $3,000 a year to $25,000, or so the American League magnates say without blushing.

Johnson prides himself upon being the director of baseball. As president of his league, he is a member of the national commission, and the third member thereof is August Hermann of Cincinnati, who voices with Johnson, because this gives Johnson unlimited power, which he knows how to use and he keeps Hermann jolted until the hero of many breakfast dinners were a perpetual snore.

Johnson is credited with forcing G. W. Murphy who worked with Johnson in Cincinnati and now owns the Cubs, to give Joe Tinker to Cincinnati and permit Frank Chance to go to the American League by threatening to tell some things he knew.

This is called "politics" by some and "diplomacy" by others. There is another name, but it is not mentioned in polite circles.

Pete Johnson has quarreled with Comiskey, and while the scrap lasted Byron never looked the same. Before he was a lover of peace, he was always ready to have friends bring about a handshaking festival at which he and his mentor counted old wars.

While Comiskey enjoys his health Johnson will continue to be a baseball star, but it is said to think what would happen should the old Roman decline to retire.

Johnson introduced Mexican justice to baseball; his supreme court is a regular five-man court with a piker. He punishes players with an umpire's report, without hearing the player's side.

Just as easily as he put the cap in controls, Johnson suspended play with no more investigation than a telegram from the umpire whose feelings were being ruffled.

A great starter but a poor finisher is the Philadelphia executive. He started the clock and umpire scandal investigations, but the only finish the public saw was an agreement with white-wash that it was not recognizable. It is said, though, that the end suited Johnson, as he obtained what he was after, very much as a politician does, and his best expression, "For the good of the game," answered a multitude of questions.

Medicine Hat Takes a Fall Out of Red Legs by Score of Ten to Three.

Medicine Hat, Aug. 2.—In a game marked by fairly good pitching by Rankin and Brown, but which was robbed of its interest by both teams booting everything which came in their way, the hat defeated the Red Legs by a 10 to 3 score.

There was a rather exciting game, as both players and fans became excited over the players' decisions and Rankin and Brown were the main attraction.

In the fifth inning Rankin was hit by a ball and was put out of the game. Since Manager Dunn related to pay Morris a fine put on him for having used recently at Calgary, he had been lying down. Today he was so that Manager Dunn put him out of the game and will likely suspend him, possibly for the balance of the season.

Errors committed by his gave the hat in the sixth. The locals made a good start in the first inning, but they were not to rest. After three was dismissed, Manager Dunn used four pitchers in the field, and kept put up a better game than any of the regulars. Score: Medicine Hat. 10; Red Legs. 3. 5-6. Medicine Hat. 012 020 103-10. 3-6. Red Legs. 001 000 003-3. Rankin and Brown out.

They stroked through the park. Yesterday they were in luck. They had been scheduled to play at Medicine Hat, but they had not time to school together to the game. Suddenly a shunder passed over the town and the game was postponed.

Johnson's salary has climbed from $3,000 a year to $25,000, or so the American League magnates say without blushing.

Johnson prides himself upon being the director of baseball. As president of his league, he is a member of the national commission, and the third member thereof is August Hermann of Cincinnati, who voices with Johnson, because this gives Johnson unlimited power, which he knows how to use and he keeps Hermann jolted until the hero of many breakfast dinners were a perpetual snore.

Johnson is credited with forcing G. W. Murphy who worked with Johnson in Cincinnati and now owns the Cubs, to give Joe Tinker to Cincinnati and permit Frank Chance to go to the American League by threatening to tell some things he knew.

This is called "politics" by some and "diplomacy" by others. There is another name, but it is not mentioned in polite circles.

Pete Johnson has quarreled with Comiskey, and while the scrap lasted Byron never looked the same. Before he was a lover of peace, he was always ready to have friends bring about a handshaking festival at which he and his mentor counted old wars.

While Comiskey enjoys his health Johnson will continue to be a baseball star, but it is said to think what would happen should the old Roman decline to retire.

Johnson introduced Mexican justice to baseball; his supreme court is a regular five-man court with a piker. He punishes players with an umpire's report, without hearing the player's side.

Just as easily as he put the cap in controls, Johnson suspended play with no more investigation than a telegram from the umpire whose feelings were being ruffled.

A great starter but a poor finisher is the Philadelphia executive. He started the clock and umpire scandal investigations, but the only finish the public saw was an agreement with white-wash that it was not recognizable. It is said, though, that the end suited Johnson, as he obtained what he was after, very much as a politician does, and his best expression, "For the good of the game," answered a multitude of questions.

Johnson's salary has climbed from $3,000 a year to $25,000, or so the American League magnates say without blushing.

Johnson prides himself upon being the director of baseball. As president of his league, he is a member of the national commission, and the third member thereof is August Hermann of Cincinnati, who voices with Johnson, because this gives Johnson unlimited power, which he knows how to use and he keeps Hermann jolted until the hero of many breakfast dinners were a perpetual snore.

Johnson is credited with forcing G. W. Murphy who worked with Johnson in Cincinnati and now owns the Cubs, to give Joe Tinker to Cincinnati and permit Frank Chance to go to the American League by threatening to tell some things he knew.

This is called "politics" by some and "diplomacy" by others. There is another name, but it is not mentioned in polite circles.

Pete Johnson has quarreled with Comiskey, and while the scrap lasted Byron never looked the same. Before he was a lover of peace, he was always ready to have friends bring about a handshaking festival at which he and his mentor counted old wars.

While Comiskey enjoys his health Johnson will continue to be a baseball star, but it is said to think what would happen should the old Roman decline to retire.

Johnson introduced Mexican justice to baseball; his supreme court is a regular five-man court with a piker. He punishes players with an umpire's report, without hearing the player's side.

Just as easily as he put the cap in controls, Johnson suspended play with no more investigation than a telegram from the umpire whose feelings were being ruffled.

A great starter but a poor finisher is the Philadelphia executive. He started the clock and umpire scandal investigations, but the only finish the public saw was an agreement with white-wash that it was not recognizable. It is said, though, that the end suited Johnson, as he obtained what he was after, very much as a politician does, and his best expression, "For the good of the game," answered a multitude of questions.

BIG LEAGUE STANDING

NATIONAL LEAGUE.		P.C.
New York	50	39
Pittsburgh	49	38
Philadelphia	48	37
Cincinnati	47	36
Boston	46	35
St. Louis	45	34
Chicago	44	33
San Francisco	43	32
Washington	42	31
St. Paul	41	30
Brooklyn	40	29
Cleveland	39	28
San Diego	38	27
Los Angeles	37	26
San Antonio	36	25
San Jose	35	24
San Francisco	34	23
San Jose	33	22
San Francisco	32	21
San Jose	31	20
San Francisco	30	19
San Jose	29	18
San Francisco	28	17
San Jose	27	16
San Francisco	26	15
San Jose	25	14
San Francisco	24	13
San Jose	23	12
San Francisco	22	11
San Jose	21	10
San Francisco	20	9
San Jose	19	8
San Francisco	18	7
San Jose	17	6
San Francisco	16	5
San Jose	15	4
San Francisco	14	3
San Jose	13	2
San Francisco	12	1
San Jose	11	0
San Francisco	10	0
San Jose	9	0
San Francisco	8	0
San Jose	7	0
San Francisco	6	0
San Jose	5	0
San Francisco	4	0
San Jose	3	0
San Francisco	2	0
San Jose	1	0
San Francisco	0	0

AMERICAN LEAGUE.		P.C.
Philadelphia	50	39
Washington	49	38
Cleveland	48	37
St. Louis	47	36
Boston	46	35
St. Paul	45	34
Chicago	44	33
San Francisco	43	32
San Diego	42	31
San Antonio	41	30
San Jose	40	29
San Francisco	39	28
San Jose	38	27
San Francisco	37	26
San Jose	36	25
San Francisco	35	24
San Jose	34	23
San Francisco	33	22
San Jose	32	21
San Francisco	31	20
San Jose	30	19
San Francisco	29	18
San Jose	28	17
San Francisco	27	16
San Jose	26	15
San Francisco	25	14
San Jose	24	13
San Francisco	23	12
San Jose	22	11
San Francisco	21	10
San Jose	20	9
San Francisco	19	8
San Jose	18	7
San Francisco	17	6
San Jose	16	5
San Francisco	15	4
San Jose	14	3
San Francisco	13	2
San Jose	12	1
San Francisco	11	0
San Jose	10	0
San Francisco	9	0
San Jose	8	0
San Francisco	7	0
San Jose	6	0
San Francisco	5	0
San Jose	4	0
San Francisco	3	0
San Jose	2	0
San Francisco	1	0
San Jose	0	0

New York	31	62
INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.
Newark	60	34
Rochester	58	45
Buffalo	51	51
Baltimore	40	50
Montreal	46	52
Providence	47	54

FRENCHIE VAISE WAS REALLY CANADIAN BOY

Seattle, Wash., July 26.—Frenchie, whose proper name is Frankie, was born in Lexington, Mo., July 15, 1891. His home for the past 12 years has been in Renton. Previous to settling in the Washington town Frenchie, with his parents and sisters, resided for short periods in Missouri, Kansas, California, Oregon and British Columbia. From Cumberland, B. C., the Vaises came to Renton.

Vaise, although but 22, has been in the fighting game six years. Tim Swift, a local fighter now out of the ring, picked up the youngster when he was 16 years old, and has remained his manager ever since.

Frenchie's first affair, and, indeed, all of his bouts until the past winter, except a tournament at Vancouver three years ago, have been the short four-round variety scheduled for smokers in Seattle, Renton and nearby towns.

When 18 years old Vaise went to the Vancouver tournament against the advice of his friends, and took two out of three straight battles. The order of decision was received in a go with a mixer by the name of Kelly, a man 28 years of age and with 10 years of ring experience.

Has Been Successful.

Aside from a bout with Danny O'Brien last winter and the go in Vancouver, Frenchie has been universally successful.

PRESIDENT SUSPENDER
NONE SO EASY

Successful in his struggles, all of the battles except for the two above named resulting in a favorable decision or a draw.

Only in the last three goes has Vaise gone into the professional game. The first of these was a decision over Campbell last winter. The remaining two were both with the Canadian champion, Joe Hayak. The first of these ended in a draw, the second resulted in a decision for Vaise, and a transfer to the championship laurels.

Vaise trains while he works. He works at his machinist trade almost up to scheduled time and then puts in a few days' strenuous preparation.

Was Mule Driver.

Before becoming an apprentice in the car shops, Frenchie acted as a mule driver in the mines for two years. He is a member of the Renton volunteer fire department, which is an athletic team in times of peace, and is one of the first on deck at the sound of a fire siren.

Besides the ring, other branches of athletics have an attraction for Frenchie. He plays on the baseball team, and on the town football eleven he is a star.

Vaise is the idol of Renton. In spite of his success he is quiet and modest. "What I like about Frenchie," said Rev. Edmondson, pastor of the Renton Presbyterian church, "is that he is clean, clear, through—clean-spoken, clean-lived, and a clean athlete."

Frenchie lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vaise. He is the only boy of the family.

SAVING THE VIBRATOR.

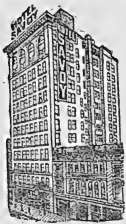

An excellent way of reducing the wear on the coil vibrator points with satisfactory ignition is periodically to reverse the direction of the current flow through the system.

The Edmonton Police Amateur Athletic Assoc. Games
The postponed meeting will be held at the Exhibition Grounds on the North Side on Saturday, the 2nd August, 1913 at 2 o'clock

The Giliaz's Band will be in attendance.
Prizes will be presented at Pantages Theatre, Jasper Ave. West, immediately after the second show on Saturday evening by the Lady Mayoress, Mrs. Short.

By Order, Chas. Wm. Sandles, Secretary.

"TWELVE STORIES OF SOLID CONFORT"

When You Come to Seattle Come to THE SAVOY

THE SAVOY is in the center of things—theatres and department stores on all sides. An absolutely fire-proof structure—concrete, steel and marble. The Savoy's guests have every comfort; library and reading room, restful beds, absolute security, and a Cafe famed for its excellent food and unrivalled service.

EUROPEAN PLAN

Rates: $1.00 per day and up
With Baths, $2.00 per day and up

Flor de Claro
—The Cigar That Pleases
The Popular Taste

It has the real Havana flavor—with the mellow richness of the Cuban leaf. It's a cigar you'll enjoy as much after dinner as you will after breakfast. It's sweet and mild, yet full flavored.

You'll like "Flor de Claro"—like it better than any other too.

Money In The Ashes
We are placing Aluminum Tags—stamped with the name "Flor de Claro" Cigars. Watch the ash as you smoke a "Flor de Claro." If you find an aluminum tag, take it to your dealer and he will cash it for you.

J. BRUCE PAYNE LIMITED
GRANDY, P.O.

JACK DUNN.

Plucky leader of the Baltimore International League team who refuses to quit and go to the hospital for an operation for appendicitis. He declines to take his doctor's advice in the matter.

BARROW DOING SOMETHING FOR ORGANIZED BASEBALL

He is Original "Bull Moose" of Ball and His Scheme for Pooling Players to Be Drawn by Lot if Successful Will Mean Much for the Game.

(By W. J. MacBeth.)
New York, Aug. 1.—Edward Barrow, the bustling president of the International league is the original "Bull Moose" of organized baseball. He is thoroughly progressive in his views and actions, and he wields the Big Stick with determination and foresight. Under his regime the International league has prospered greatly and minor league baseball in general has shared this prosperity.

To the untiring efforts of Barrow is largely due the fact that the three most powerful minor leagues are graded higher than had been the case before he assumed office. The more exact rating carried with it any number of advantageous privileges. The Class A clubs are not only better protected in every way—but the new order of things made compulsory a revision of ratings and privileges all the way down the line from the two major circuits to the most obscure "brush" organizations. In short, a new working agreement had to be framed: a more up-to-date peace pact, as it were.

Does Much Already.

Barrow has already done quite enough for minor league baseball to establish his name as a real champion of the cause. But he is not a man who is content to live on reputation. He purposes next year to inaugurate the most radical changes in the history of solving the principal disadvantages under which the big family of the national pastime now toils. Barrow has the nerve to try a scheme, which, if successful, is bound to do no less than revolutionize the administration of the game.

The players of the International league

the National Commission's vigilance wholesale "farmers" continue. Every league club has a raft of embryos "coveyed up" as an emergency reserve. Nothing can be done to stop it. Players who might help the weak clubs are kept on the benches of the flag contenders or plunked out somewhere in such a manner that they are safe from the danger of rivalry.

If it could be proven by fair trial that Ed. Barrow's idea is practical, the world would be saved not only one of the greatest puzzles of the promoters, but one of the greatest ills of the players as well. By the same stroke would be cancelled the necessary evil of the reserve clause, which has threatened Congressional investigation of baseball as a trust. Baseball contracts as at present constituted are illegal. They are not equitable. A player may be discharged on ten days' notice; he is bound for athletic life to the club with which he signs through the instrument of reserve. That no greater injustices result is due largely to the brand-namelessness of the National Commission. Yet in spite of all injustices exist.

Take the case of any star ball player who is so unfortunate as to be a member of a poor club. Rucker, of Brooklyn, in the past few years is a fitting example. Brooklyn could not afford to pay him as much as could the other clubs. There was absolutely no hope for the future. Bound hand and foot to the Dodgers no ray of light's series sunshiny broke through to cheer him.

It should be the best thing in the world for players if they were put up to be drawn each season. There would be far more novelty to the life, a better chance of general advancement in salary because of ever changing interest of fandom and less likelihood of discontent in the ranks. It might come hard at first to give up old idols of years. We all would grieve to see the gallant Mott go to Chicago. But we might learn after a while to tolerate a Hans Wagner or Johnny Evers in his stead. Of course the main objection to such a plan would come from the champions who consider the world's series prize theirs by right. Of habit Count Mack and John McGraw should not be expected to go into ecstasies over Barrow's scheme. But, even as that these crafty pilots could prove their true worth by sitting in at the draw and by hammering home their ideas to a new brood of athletes each spring. As a pure sporting proposition the new order of things would give the first true line on real managerial ability. Even balanced fields would eliminate the element of luck.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES.
Grand Circuit races by the following is a summary of yesterday's races:
$100 class, racing, purse $1,000—Time: 2:13 3/4, 2:10, 2:09 1/2, 2:11 3/4.
The Commodore stake, purse $1,000—Time: 2:13 3/4, 2:10, 2:09 1/2, 2:11 3/4.
$100 class, racing, purse $1,000—Time: 2:13 3/4, 2:10, 2:09 1/2, 2:11 3/4.
Free for all class, racing, purse $1,000—Time: 2:13 3/4, 2:10, 2:09 1/2, 2:11 3/4.

NEW GARAGE NEARLY BUILT.

Work on the new Graham and Evans garage has been practically completed. The cement floor has been laid, and it will be hard to find the car will be placed in it. The new garage is a two-story brick building, believed to be absolutely fireproof. The floor is the repair shop, and during the coming week the machinery will be placed in it.

Needs Nerve.

If the International league club owners have the nerve to endorse the scheme of the president it will at least assure a fine test of the proposed remedy for many of the present drawbacks of the game. The experiment should be worth a great deal for advertising purposes alone. It would attract more attention to the International league than to either of the big leagues. The whole country would be interested in the outcome and no one would watch the results with greater interest than the powers of the two major leagues.

Barrow's theory appears a most sound one. So far it is only theory. If it would stand the acid test in the minor league it is certainly it would be welcomed in the big show. There is no more discouraging element in the promotion of minor league baseball than the seeming inability of second division clubs to secure competent talent. The New York American club is a very good illustration of this. In the last five years Frank Farrell has spent fortunes trying to build up a losing club. Today it is right where it was in 1908—away back in the rack. All his money has been thrown away. There is absolutely no sentiment in baseball. Not a rival manager would give Frank Chance a cent more out of his pocket to help the Pennless Lerner win a game from him. It is almost impossible to dig minor league clubs from the mire. Talent has to be developed. There is a dearth of material—not enough good players to go round. And naturally minor league clubs with something successful major outfits do not because the market is any better but because of the fact that their stars are more likely to be turned back again at some sort of sound profit.

The Principle.

The principles of organized baseball are quite sound and just enough. But there are too many loopholes for evasion. Even the roster limits are not conscientiously observed. In spite of

PILES
Do not suffer from hemorrhoids. Do not let them grow. Do not let them become a nuisance. Do not let them become a source of pain. Do not let them become a source of shame. Do not let them become a source of worry. Do not let them become a source of trouble. Do not let them become a source of distress. Do not let them become a source of discomfort. Do not let them become a source of inconvenience. Do not let them become a source of annoyance. Do not let them become a source of irritation. Do not let them become a source of inflammation. Do not let them become a source of infection. Do not let them become a source of disease. Do not let them become a source of death.

BIG LEAGUE RESULTS

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Brooklyn	100 100 100 100 100 100
Philadelphia	100 100 100 100 100 100
Pittsburgh	100 100 100 100 100 100
St. Louis	100 100 100 100 100 100
Washington	100 100 100 100 100 100
Chicago	100 100 100 100 100 100
Cincinnati	100 100 100 100 100 100
Cleveland	100 100 100 100 100 100
San Francisco	100 100 100 100 100 100
San Diego	100 100 100 100 100 100
Portland	100 100 100 100 100 100
Seattle	100 100 100 100 100 100
Vancouver	100 100 100 100 100 100
Victoria	100 100 100 100 100 100
Edmonton	100 100 100 100 100 100
Calgary	100 100 100 100 100 100
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Chicago	100 100 100 100 100 100
St. Louis	100 100 100 100 100 100
Philadelphia	100 100 100 100 100 100
Pittsburgh	100 100 100 100 100 100
Washington	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brooklyn	100 100 100 100 100 100
Cincinnati	100 100 100 100 100 100
Cleveland	100 100 100 100 100 100
San Francisco	100 100 100 100 100 100
San Diego	100 100 100 100 100 100
Portland	100 100 100 100 100 100
Seattle	100 100 100 100 100 100
Vancouver	100 100 100 100 100 100
Victoria	100 100 100 100 100 100
Edmonton	100 100 100 100 100 100
Calgary	100 100 100 100 100 100
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Baltimore	100 100 100 100 100 100
St. Louis	100 100 100 100 100 100
Philadelphia	100 100 100 100 100 100
Pittsburgh	100 100 100 100 100 100
Washington	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brooklyn	100 100 100 100 100 100
Cincinnati	100 100 100 100 100 100
Cleveland	100 100 100 100 100 100
San Francisco	100 100 100 100 100 100
San Diego	100 100 100 100 100 100
Portland	100 100 100 100 100 100
Seattle	100 100 100 100 100 100
Vancouver	100 100 100 100 100 100
Victoria	100 100 100 100 100 100
Edmonton	100 100 100 100 100 100
Calgary	100 100 100 100 100 100
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100

NORTHERN LEAGUE
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Winnipeg	100 100 100 100 100 100
Saskatoon	100 100 100 100 100 100
Regina	100 100 100 100 100 100
Brandon	100 100 100 100 100 100

When replying to advertisements please mention the Daily Capital.

MITCHELL SLIDE-EASY NECKWEAR QUALITY STYLE VARIETY

WATSON'S
No. 10
Scotch Whisky
A General Favorite
The Western Commercial Co., Ltd.
DISTRIBUTORS
SUCCESSORS TO EDMONTON WINE & SPIRIT CO.
Phone 1911 247 Jasper E.

"Gee!
It's great on a hot day."

Coolness, peace and comfort come with a glass of "Montserrat" Limeade. The most refreshing of hot weather drinks. Made in a moment—enjoyed for hours. Get a bottle of "Montserrat" at your Druggist's or Grocer's. Everybody enjoys Double Satisfaction.

MONTSERRAT
Lime Fruit Juice.

NATIONAL DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO. OF CANADA LIMITED, MONTREAL

EXHIBITS OF AUTOS AT FAIR SHOULD BE A STRONG FEATURE

Several Local Agencies for Manufacturers Have Arranged to Make Interesting Exhibits of Automobiles at Edmonton's Big Industrial Exhibition Next Month.

One of the interesting features at the Edmonton exhibition this year will be the automobile show or the collections of automobile exhibits. Several manufacturers will be exhibiting in the industrial building and side by side there will be placed the different models so that anyone interested may examine them or have them explained. A number of local dealers will have a space in the building and on the grounds for the exhibit of cars and automobile machinery. One of the most attractive or interesting sides of the automobile exhibit will be the Waverly Silent Electric, exhibited by the Scott Motor company. This car will be in charge of a sales lady who will not only operate the car but will explain its operation to anyone interested. The Scott people claim that a man has like a "bull in a china shop" in the Waverly Electric. It is particularly

M'LAUGHLIN O HAVE EXHIBIT

Exhibit of Cars at Fair Grounds Will Be Duplicated in Show-rooms During Exhibition.

The McLaughlin Automobile company are making arrangements to place one of the most interesting exhibits on the grounds. If space can be secured, four or five cars in all will be used, including a 1930 or 2000 pound truck, one of the first Canadian made trucks to come to the city. One of the models of the McLaughlin car will also be used. The exhibit at the grounds will be duplicated in their show rooms on Fourth st. Even if no space can be secured on the exhibition grounds, there will be an exhibit at their garage. A TIRE VALVE TIP. If, for any reason you should chance to lose the cap of one of your tire valves do not allow the valve to remain unsecured. It is certain to get into the inlet and a leaky valve is bound to result. Therefore, fasten a rubber band around the valve and over the valve aperture with a rubber band or a bit of twine.

AUTO DEALERS MAY NOT HAVE SPACE ALLOTTED

Fair Association Discovered that Space Give for Autos Needed for Horses.

The space originally set aside by the Exhibition association for the automobile show will be changed according to information given to exhibitors on Thursday. It was discovered by the management that the space first set aside for automobiles would be needed for horses, and the automobile exhibitors were notified that they would have to give it up. As yet the fair association has not set any more space aside for the automobile people. If no space can be secured the auto dealers who intended placing interesting and expensive exhibits on the grounds will raise a bigger kick than the horses.

NEW GEAR SHIFT FEATURE OF HAYNES CAR

Great interest is being manifested by automobile men of the west in the electric gear shift which is demonstrated at each stop by the members of the Haynes Indiana-to-Pacific touring party.

Both mechanics and electricians who saw the device pronounced it perfectly simple and easily perfected. The idea back of the device is the well-known principle of electro-magnets, or solenoids, as they are called. A set of push buttons on the steering wheel is connected to the control of the gears. There is a button for each gear—first, second, third, and also neutral and reverse—while other buttons in the same dial control electric self-starter and horn. To secure any desired change of gears, it is only necessary to press the proper button and depress the clutch pedal with the foot instantly and with an almost entire absence of noise the gear shift is made. The pressing of the pedal completes an electrical contact with the battery which operates the starter and lights. When pedal is released the circuit is automatically broken. The current is drawn from the battery for only fractions of a second, so that the drain is so small as to be almost negligible. Robert Crawford, advertising manager of the Haynes, says that never in the history of motoring has a device aroused so much interest and enthusiasm among the motoring trade and the automobile public as the electric gear shift. "We of the Haynes touring party," he added, "are kept busy from the time we enter a town to the time we leave showing the workings of the wonderful device to the throngs of interested persons."

"We of the Haynes organization, when witnessing the enthusiasm with which the new device is received, predict for it a far greater popularity than is enjoyed from the self-starter. A young daughter of W. A. Porter, of Tyler, Texas, while entertaining a party of girl friends in her father's Kissel car "40," lost her head and control of the car while descending a dangerous hill at a 45 mph an hour pace. The car leaped from the road, crossed a lawn, destroyed a rustic bridge, dashed down a six-foot terrace and landed on its side in a 12-foot ditch. No one was seriously hurt, which was a miracle, while the car suffered only a bent front axle and a broken bumper and was driven home under its own power—another miracle. The owner declares he does not believe any other car than the Kissel could have escaped with so little damage."

TOURS OCEAN TO OCEAN HIGHWAY

President Joy of Packard Company Reports on Preliminary Survey of Iowa Routes.

H. B. Joy, president of the Packard Motor Car company, has just completed a motoring trip from Detroit to Omaha and return in the interests of the Ocean to Ocean highway project, with which he is identified. The tour was made for the purpose of obtaining a preliminary survey of the northern and southern routes across Illinois and Iowa. Both routes were thoroughly covered on this trip, which developed points in favor of each. The road between Iowa City and Davenport, for example, is one of the finest stretches of improved highway to be found in the country. The northern route, however, is less lively and lends a greater number of good sized towns.

Mr. Joy was particularly impressed by the fact that within a few hours after several days of rain in Iowa the farmers of that state had scraped hundreds of miles of the roadway, making use of the King drag. This is a simple and effective method of improving a dirt road.

Road Signs Required. The crying need for legible signs marking the transcontinental highway at forks and cross roads was apparent. The most serious difficulty for the motorists who have never been over the road, as an example of what to be accomplished, attention was called to what is known as the "White Pole" across Iowa. This trail throughout its entire length is marked by white, white bands on the telegraph and telephone poles. The result is the motorist has constant assurance that he is on the right road.

The "Prairie schooner," a Packard "48" chassis with a special body designed by himself for use as a camp car. It is fitted with an alcohol stove, electric lights, sleeping bags and a complete equipment which makes camp life a luxury.

Mr. Joy was so impressed by the interest shown through the highway in the plans for a transcontinental highway, that he will start shortly in his car and extend his observations to the Pacific coast.

The ocean to ocean highway project was launched by Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis speedway. The Packard Motor Car company has pledged $100,000 to the project and a number of other automobile companies have promised support.

The careful motorist will always look carefully at his car's tires before running the vehicle on the washing stand, and order to make sure that all the shoes are properly inflated, and that the knurled nuts on the valve stems are tight. Otherwise if a car happens to run its way into the casing it will eventually ruin it by rotting out the fabric.

Electric Restorer for Men. Phosphoric restores every nerve in the body and vitality. Promotes proper function of the brain and nerves. It is a new man. Price $3.00 a box. Get it at the nearest drug store, or write to The Scott Motor Co., Ltd., 118 Jasper, W.

SCOUTING EXPEDITION DELAYED BY BAD ROADS BUT WILL START SOON

Automobiles Which Will Be Sent Out by the Edmonton Automobile Club to Explore Highways to the East as Far as Lloydminster Delayed by Heavy Rain.

The heavy rains during the past week have made the roads leading from Edmonton such an impossible mass of mud that the Automobile club has delayed the sending of the scouting party which it had been decided to send out to look for roads to the east for a few days. A meeting of the club will be held in a few days, and in all probability the party will then start and can probably start as soon as the roads are in a respectable condition. Automobiles coming in from Cook's lake and other week end resorts on Sunday night and Monday morning experienced great difficulty. About 15 or 16 machines started from Cook's lake early Sunday evening, and only a few of them reached the city the same night. Eleven or 12 of them were stalled along the road, and occupants finding it necessary to stay at farm houses along the road. Several automobiles essayed to the trip from Lake Wabamun to Edmonton Monday evening or Tuesday morning. They have not reached Edmonton yet.

It will probably be several days before the roads are in a condition through which it will be possible to travel. As soon as they are in its shape the scouting expedition will be organized and started on its perilous journey. The plan of mapping out the roads as far east as Lloydminster was brought up at the meeting of the club held a few weeks ago. The plan was approved without dissent by the club, and arrangements will be completed at the next meeting, which is under consideration. President York will call early next week.

Burns Eclectic Oil

The fire is removed from burns and scalds as far as possible. It is quickly cooled, by the Eclectic oil. It is brought relief to cuts, scratches and all abrasions of the skin. It is safe to use. All druggists, 25 cents.

PLACING SPARK PLUGS. Even such a simple operation as placing a spark plug in its appointed position has possibilities for going wrong. For instance, it is possible, by accidental contact with the cylinder wall, to knock the points out of adjustment. The result is, of course, misfiring or the entire refusal of the motor to start. The cure is, of course, too obvious to need pointing out.

La Fleche Bros.

High Class Tailoring
118, Jasper, W.

WE CATER TO THE HIGH-CLASS TRADE

The SCOTT MOTOR LTD.

H. L. FITZ, MANAGER

This business has been reorganized and we are now in a position to do your repairs or offer you prompt, expert and courteous service day or night. We guarantee our work and assure you entire satisfaction. Our prices are based only on the actual time put in on your car by expert mechanics—we will not submit your car to students. All work will be under the manager's personal supervision. Tires, Oils and Accessories will be sold to meet any prices in this city.

"Phone Us for Service" The "SQUARE DEAL GARAGE" Edmonton Home of the "RUSSELL SILENT KNIGHT," "STUDEBAKER," "KISSEL KARR" —1914 Model out now, "SILENT WAVERLEY ELECTRIC."

We have some second hand Kars, owned by our customers requiring 1913 or 1914 models, which may be bought for 50 per cent. of their value.

The public's choice for 40 years, and still without a rival.

Sold by all first-class dealers, cafes and clubs.

You DUCK HUNTER!

Do You Know that an

EVINRUDE CANOE MOTOR

attached to your boat is the greatest time and labor saver?—It will noiselessly drive your boat through the reeds on the lake at from 7 to 10 miles an hour.

Prepare now for the coming duck season. Come in and see the Evinrude. We will tell you why it is necessary to place your order now.

NORTHERN MOTOR SUPPLIES LIMITED
123 Rice Street Phone 6692

Cutting Down Gasoline Bills

Sometimes there is waste of gasoline from leakage as evaporation will keep pace with small leaks so that they easily pass unnoticed, especially if so located that the gasoline runs down a pipe for a distance, thus exposing more surface to evaporation. Mixing cylinder oil or kerosene with the gasoline renders small leaks visible, as many an experimenter has discovered.

Prominent among the causes of larger gasoline consumption is a poor condition of the motor; if it has not good compression, has badly timed valves, insufficient lubrication or obstructed exhaust, then considerable more fuel must be used to offset these defective conditions. Adjustment of carburetor has much to do with economy or waste of fuel; a motor needs more feed when first started and the carburetor cannot automatically deal it out to accord with the engine's varying temperature. Speed drivers adjust (1) the carburetor before the engine is normally warm and also while it is idling, which is obviously wrong; it stands to reason that the engine must be in its ordinary working condition and doing regular work or it cannot be closely regulated.

Perfection is unattainable therefore it is best to regulate the feed to the best possible point and then shut off a little of it, and so make sure that the adjustment is on the side of economy. Clean plugs, clean cylinders and cooler engine. Sometimes, when there is plenty of power available, it is best to shut off enough fuel to perceptibly slow the engine and when more power is wanted obtain it by opening the throttle a little more. The possibility of making adjustments from the seat is an important factor in saving gasoline, as well as in getting the best service. Weak ignition sparks are accountable for great loss of power, not only because of the possible missing of explosions under unfavorable conditions, but also because the mixture is not ignited with that vim which causes the most rapid combustion and so yields the most power. A proper degree of spark advance contributes liberally to the motor's efficiency as well as to cooler and more quiet running. Cooler running encourages better lubrication, which is much to be desired, being one of the prime necessities. It is not enough to lubricate sufficiently to prevent heating and rapid wear, for the parts must be oiled still more than this to run the fastest.

Of course, low gear work is wasteful of fuel, and it is equally true that high speed is also wasteful, largely on account of air resistance, increasing rapidly with speed, at 10 miles per hour the wind pressure is only 1-10 pound per square foot, at twice that speed it is four times greater, and at 10 miles per hour it reaches 6.4-10 pounds per square foot.

Coasting should be practiced whenever there is an opportunity for it, this offers the only way to compensate for part of the extra fuel burned in arriving at the top of a hill.

Avoid the use of brakes whenever possible; power lost by their use can never be recovered. Do not make avoidable stops, it takes power to start again.

"Miles per gallon," like life, is made up of little things, pay close attention to every detail or the desired results will not follow.

WAS A CONFIRMED DYSPYPTIC Now Finds It a Pleasure to Enjoy Meals

Here is a case which seemed as bad and as hopeless as yours can possibly be. This is the experience of Mr. H. J. Brown, 364 Bathurst St., Toronto, in his own words: "Gentlemen—I have much pleasure in mentioning to you the benefits received from your Scott-Dyette Tablets and can cheerfully recommend them. I simply had continued dyspepsia for many years, with all the advertised cures with no success. You have in Scott-Dyette Tablets the best curative agent I could find. It is now such a pleasure to enjoy meals with their consequent nourishment that I want to mention this for the benefit of others. The fact that a lot of prescriptions or so-called 'cures' have failed to help you is no sign that you have got to go on suffering. Try Scott-Dyette Tablets and see how quickly this sterling remedy will give you relief and start your stomach working properly. If it doesn't help you, get your money back. See how you get your drugist's. Communicate with the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal."

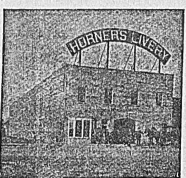

Sanitary Paper Towels

Cheaper than Laundry Bills and always clean. Can only be used once :: :: ::

Ask Us?

Phones 1514, 4834

A. HESCH CO. LTD.
STATIONERS
PHONES 1514 4834

HORNER'S LIVERY AND GARAGE CO. LTD.
PHONES 1234
"Best place on earth for rigs or cars—Try and see."
Corner First and Glare St.

THE HOME OF THE Hotpoint

Pennie & Newman Ltd.
Electrical Contractors.

THE MORGAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, Winnipeg. wishes to make arrangements with a well recommended, reliable person or firm, capable of producing new business and organizing the district, with headquarters at Edmonton. Apply, with full particulars marked "Personal," to J. W. W. Stewart, Managing Director, Winnipeg.

Caledonian Temperance Hotel
240 Fraser Ave.
Modern, clean, good rooms.
Location convenient to G. T. P. and C. N. R. depot.
Baker: $1.50 day, $6.50 week.
W. N. McLeod, Prop.
Phone 7100

When replying to advertisements please mention the Daily Capital.

Northern Investment Agency
FINANCIAL BROKERS
EDMONTON, CANADA

For Rent
Attractive Suite of Offices for Rent in Agency Building.
Phone 2666
50 JASPER AVE. E.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE LOANS

Do Corns Lead to Cancer?

As yet this has not been proved, but interested parties will find nothing better for corns than Putnam's Corn Extractor, 25c. at all dealers.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION.

IF YOU WANT A POSITION THE CAPITAL will insert your ad. free of charge during the first 10 days.

FOR SALE—FURNISHED TENT IN BEAUTY spot of Edmonton, on Saskatchewan river, handy to car line, good place to spend summer or winter. Well built, new. Address Box 15, July 24, 1913. 8-4

FOR RENT—ONE WELL FURNISHED room in a new, modern house, walking distance, plenty of hot water and reasonable price. 1240 Glare Avenue. Phone 2978.

WANTED—LADIES AND SCHOOL GIRLS to do piece work at home, copying designs on cushion tops, work pleasant and easy, good pay. Apply 1444, Fourth St. hours 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. 8-2

FULL-SIZED ENGLISH BILLIARD TABLE, new, splendid condition, all complete with accessories. Apply Box 802, North Edmonton. 8-2

POSITION WANTED AS CHECKER, TIME-keeper, shipper, caretaker or stenographer, good income; handy man for any place where a steady, reliable man is required. Apply C. W. Purdie, Athabasca Landing, Alta. 8-7

FURNISHED ROOMS—SINGLE, 50c per week, $2.50 to $3 per week, double rooms, 75c per week or $3.50 to $5 per week. 714 Synagogue Avenue. Phone 1007.

ROOMS TO-ROOMED HOUSE IN WEST END wanted to rent. Phone 5123. 8-8

SOMETHING BETTER THAN YOU GENERALLY find in the city. In a fully modern home at 137 Short Street, rates reasonable. Phone 2-3-12

WANTED—GIRL TO ASSIST WITH housework in family, one accustomed to children preferred. Apply Mrs. Miller, 167 Belmont, or phone 4258. 8-8

MODEL ROOMS—MRS. J. MILLAR, MANAGER, Phone 6716, cor. Saskatchewan and 1st. Fully modern, clean, neat, clean, well furnished; rates 50c up. Also, ladies' quarters for Peace River people. Reliable information gladly supplied. Maps of all kinds in office. Nice quiet place for married couples. 8-2

PARTIES RECENTLY ARRIVED FROM the coast and intending to visit the city for anything of advantage to offer. Address 1, Capital, giving particulars and phone. 7-3

LOST—A GOLD BROOCH, SET WITH emeralds and pearls. Finder please return to 245 Ross. Liberal reward.

Short Notice
Auction Sale of Millinery Stock

Reed and Robinson have received instructions from the Official Assignee, to sell the Public Auction of the whole of the MILLINERY STOCK in the store

NO. 628 MAYNARD AVENUE.
SALE COMMENCES AT TWO P.M.
Monday, 4th Aug.

and continues again at seven p.m., Monday evening.

REED & ROBINSON,
Auctioneers.

AUCTION ROOMS AND OFFICES
802-10 Jasper Avenue East.
PHONE 2150.

MOOSE JAW, SASK.

Highland Park—the city's most desirable property. This year will be Moose Jaw's greatest year. More new industries will go into Moose Jaw than all Saskatchewan cities combined. The big developments are near Highland Park. Lots only $175.

INTERNATIONAL SECURITIES COMPANY LIMITED
651 First Street.

THISTLE RINK, EDMONTON

Offers for renting about now to the 30th April, 1914, wanted by

ROBERT McDONALD,
Yale and Windsor Hotels, Edmonton.

GET IT AT THE BAY

BUSINESS MEN START ON TRIP TOMORROW NIGHT

Most Prominent Retailers and Wholesalers Are Going on the Journey.

WILL HAVE FINE CHANCE TO SIZE UP CONDITIONS

Previous Affairs Have Been Mighty Successful, but this One is Expected to Break All Records.

Arrangements are now complete for the third annual trip of Edmonton business men, and the special train bearing the party will leave promptly at 12:30 P.M. for Calgary tomorrow night.

To date 63 prominent retailers and wholesalers of the city have secured accommodation on the train, and it is considered likely that this number will be considerably augmented before the train leaves tomorrow evening.

The special train will visit all the towns and cities in Central Alberta completing the tour upon arrival in Edmonton one week from Monday morning.

The party will cover the Athabasca line first and then the train will return to Edmonton.

The next stage of the journey will be to the cities on the main line east of the C.P.R. and goes as far as Deer.

The last lap of the journey is over the C.P.R. line west.

On this trip the retailers and wholesalers of the city will have a chance of renewing acquaintance with the men throughout the district tributary to Edmonton, and will be able to size up conditions in the various towns visited at first hand.

The previous trips of the Edmonton business men have been exceedingly successful, but board of trade members anticipate that this will be the best trip of the three.

SMITH FAMILY IN LARGE MAJORITY

Have Enough Votes to Grab all the Offices if Elections Were Conducted on Clan Line.

Out of a total of 26,863 names comprising this year's voters' list, it is found that the Smiths are in the majority. There are no less than 827 members of the Smith families entitled to vote this year in the city of Edmonton.

The Macdonald families take the second place with a total of 569 names to their credit on this year's list. The rivalry between these two clans has been so keen during the past few days that several battles have been made by supporters of each clan. Those betting on the Macdonalds will lose their money as the Smiths are in the lead with a majority of 75.

The Browns take third place on the list with 168 names to the credit of their clan.

The voters' list this year will be the most accurate yet issued in the city of Edmonton. The assessor has spared no pains in getting it right. He spent considerable time in issuing very definite instructions to the enumerators when they made up the census cards some months ago. The list of tenants in the voters' list has been taken from these census cards.

The burgesses have all been compiled from the assessment roll, but ample opportunity has been given to property owners to examine the roll and make sure that their names appear. The assessor expects that the verified lists will be ready next Tuesday of next week. If all those entitled to vote will consult this list they will have opportunity to enter protest up to and including August 14th. Typewritten copies of the list, in accordance with the act, were posted on July 31st in the south side municipal office, the public library, mechanics' hall and the assessor's office. When the printed lists are ready they will be posted in all prominent places in the city.

ASK INJUNCTION UNLESS CAR BARN SITE CLEARED

Committee Appointed to Ask Council for an Agreement to Remove Rails and Spurs from Track.

At a meeting which was attended by 50 taxpayers who reside near the car barn, last night, a committee was appointed to secure from the city the agreement providing for the removal of all the spur tracks and lumber from the car barn site within the next 15 days. Failure to secure this agreement the committee was empowered and instructed to apply to the supreme court for an injunction to restrain the city council from taking possession of the property for a temporary technical school.

POLICE SPORT PRIZES.

Through the kindness of the management of the Panthea theatre, the giving out of the prizes to the winners in the police sports this afternoon was very much more formal than in previous years, when the prizes were simply handed out at the police station.

Between the first and second shows, Mrs. Short, wife of the manager, presented the trophies. There will be a number of prominent citizens present.

NEW SUBWAY AT THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS READY

Believed to Be the Only One Under a Half-Mile Track in the World.

UP-TO-DATE FAIR WILL BE HELD IN THIS CITY

Arrangements Now Have Been Made by the Directors for the Housing of Harness and Saddle Horses.

The new subway, under the half mile track at the Exhibition grounds, which has been erected at a cost of $12,000 has now been completed, and will be in use for the exhibition this year.

The subway is the only one of its kind in Canada, and is believed to be the only one under a half mile track in the world.

The advantages of the subway are obvious. Even adults who endeavor to cross the track while the racers are in the race, or a preliminary start, or while a race is being run, do so at considerable personal risk, and in the case of children endeavoring to reach the other side of the race, with ponies or other pets, the element of risk is still further increased.

With the new subway in operation, all that is done away with for individual stalls.

In accordance with their reputation for holding the most up-to-date fair in the west, the directors have made arrangements for housing the harness and saddle horses in the new stock pavilion. Individual stalls will be provided, together with a large livery room, and accommodation for carriages and rigs. Rigs can be driven direct from the stables, along a eluder and gravel road, and through the new subway to the show ring.

The show ring has been completely re-plastered this year. The fences have been changed to conform to the regulation horse show rings, and the ground has been rolled as smooth as a billiard table, and covered with sand and gravel. The track also is being gotten into the best shape possible.

Track Holds Record.

The Edmonton track holds the half mile record for Canada of 2:03.4, made by "Blondie" in 1911, and this year's meet will see everything in its fine condition as things can be made, so that both show and race horses can be handled and shown to the very best advantage.

The exhibition office will be moved to the grounds on Monday morning when Manager Clark and his whole staff may be found for the next two weeks.

BUSINESS GOOD, ASSERTS FISHER

Secretary of Board of Trade Points Out Meaning of Bank Clearings.

The business men of the city certainly have no complaints to register regarding conditions in the city," said P. J. Fisher, secretary of the board of trade, this morning in discussing financial and business conditions.

In answer to a question that trade to date this year has been better than ever before in the city's history, Fisher said that the board of trade, despite the fact that there is but little money changing hands "in the retail world," has recorded during the year a substantial gain over last year. This fact alone tends to show that the regular business interests of the city are prospering.

The growth of the wholesale trade is shown in the advance of the business figures, and retailers throughout the city state that trade this year is 40 per cent. above that recorded during the corresponding months one year ago.

WOMAN'S BURNS CAUSE OF DEATH

Mrs. Forbes Who Tried to Light a Fire With Kerosene Expires in Hospital.

Mrs. D. H. Forbes, 24 years old, who was burned at Calder on July 14th while lighting a fire with kerosene, died this morning at the Royal Alexandra hospital.

Her husband is still in the hospital, but is reported out of danger.

Dr. Forney says no inquiry will be necessary.

The deceased was the wife of D. H. Forbes, a painter, and had been married for two years. They had recently moved to Calder from Winnipeg, where Forbes was employed on the C.P.R.

S. B. FERRIS EMPLOYED.

S. B. Ferris, who formerly held the position of cashier in the treasurer's department of the city hall, was engaged yesterday at the office of the assessor's department.

Mr. Ferris has been employed in the assessor's department in a clerical capacity, having taken a course in the assessor's department. Some time ago owing to failing health he was obliged to give up office work and has for some time been engaged in the real estate business.

JOHNSTONE WALKER
THE NEW SEASON AND ITS PREPARATIONS

WITH every wish to render you not merely good, but better service, we have entered upon the new season—a new half year's business. From the records of a splendid half year's business we now direct our energies towards even better things and greater accomplishments in the last lap of the year's business.

To give our patrons BETTER SERVICE, FINER MERCHANDISE, BROADER SELECTIONS, BETTER VALUE for the money spent here, and, where it is possible, an even more courteous and obliging attention to their needs and requirements.

These are the BEACON LIGHTS of the Johnstone Walker store, and it's under their glimmer this store has won the enviable reputation it enjoys.

A MONDAY SALE of Women's HANDBAGS at $2.00

WOMEN will never stop to question WHY such splendid bags are being sold for the remarkably low price of $2.00. The style and value are in them and that's first, last and only consideration with wise economists.

They are made of solid seal grain leather with leather lining and cloth purse; with German metal frame and securely lock and leather strap handle. Sizes 8 to 10.

Special Monday $2

NEMO CORSETS at $4.00, Monday's

AND there's no question about it but what it will prove the most welcome of many weeks.

They are offered in two special models for stout and short figures, also tall and medium stout figures. They have the "Nemo" self-reducing front which reduces and supports the abdomen, while the broad bands of "lasticks" webbing at the bottom of skirt produce the fashionable slender hip effect and at the same time turn corset edge in toward figure, eliminating the unsightly line-filled with the latest "lasticks" appliances. Sizes 28 to 36. On sale

Monday $4

New Suitings and Coatings for Fall are Ready in Good Selection—Come and See Them Monday

Women who realize what's to be gained by early selection will not turn a deaf ear to this announcement from the Dress Goods Section. It's the season's first exhibit of the newest weaves and colorings in rich, warm fabrics for fall suits and coats. And every woman who takes a careful inspection will award to us the reputation this department has held in past seasons for the newest, most varied and moderately priced dress goods. Come and see them Monday in a special display.

Scotch Tweed Suitings 90c to $1.50 Yd.

They are shown in a good variety of weights, 54 inches wide, in 4c very latest weaves in rich, warm colorings that buffet description as they are entirely different to what's been shown in past seasons. Made from pure Scotch wool yarns. Priced, yard 90c to $1.50

New Blanket Cloth Coatings at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 Yard

Beautiful pure wool materials, specially suitable for women's and children's coats. Shown in a wonderful range of new plain shades and attractive cross-bar and small, medium and large invisible checks, 54 inches wide. Priced, yard $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

New Fall Coatings at $1.25 to $4.00 Yd.

This splendid collection includes the season's latest productions, such as the "Futurist" and "Arabian" and other new materials in the latest patterns and colorings. Made from pure wool yarns; 54 inches wide. Priced $1.25 to $4.00

Women's Dress Shields Monday at 65c Each

The "Omni" Zonave ventilated, low cut, detachable dress or corset shield. The most up-to-date provided shield on the market. Being separate can be worn with any garment. Assorted sizes, strong and durable. Monday, at 65c

Women's Blouse Sets Monday at 25c

Few women will be able to pass these dainty blouse sets by if they have a quarter in their purse. They consist of 5 fancy gilet tops, 4 medium and 1 large size, assorted styles, strong and durable. Monday 25c

Children's Fall Hats, Good Selection at $1.50

Smart, becoming new fall styles, made of the fur felt in medium shape in black, royal, myrtle and cinnamon. Trimmed with silk cord and tassels to match. Assorted sizes, Monday 1.50

Now for a Final Clearance of Women's Fancy Silk Blouses at $3.50 Instead of Up to $7.50

WOMEN in need of an extra silk blouse or two and who appreciate an opportunity to save, will lose no time in hurrying around here Monday morning for their first choice of this grouping at $3.50 instead of up to $7.50.

The collection includes blouses suitable for many occasions for women or misses and the styles are all smart, new and attractive.

They are fashioned in fancy striped Messaline Silks in shades of blue, brown, grey, green, navy or black in a great variety of smart becoming styles with high or low collar and long or short sleeves; daintily trimmed with lace and tiny buttons down front and on collars and sleeves. Some fashioned with collars in a contrasting shade. Sizes 32 to 42. Regularly worth up to $7.50, clear 3.50

Women's and Misses' $2.25 Wash Skirts at $1.25

At $1.25 instead of $2.25 women won't hesitate to treat themselves to an extra Wash Skirt with the raised toe, other styles in the lot are made of white duck, Indian Head or top in neat fitting plain gored styles. Sizes 22 to 34 waist band. Regular $2.25. On Sale Monday 1.25

Boys' JERSEY SUITS at $2.50 Splendid Value

MOTHERS will agree with us, too, the moment they set eyes upon them, that they are most of unusual value.

They are made of pure wool yarns, a splendid fall weight, in navy, myrtle or brown, nicely made to button on shoulder; pants with open knees. Cap to match. Sizes 18 to 26. Price 2.50

A Seasonable Weight in Boys' Merino UNDERWEAR at $1.00 Suit

A SPLENDID weight for present or early fall wear; and such a moderate price mothers will send the boys around first thing Monday morning to secure a couple of suits.

They consist of a pair of long, neatly finished with satin facings, ankle length drawers. Long sleeves. Sizes 22 to 32. Price, per suit 1.00

New Arrivals in Men's "Hartt" Boots for Early Fall Wear in Good Selection

THE man must indeed be very hard to please who cannot find just exactly what he wants in this splendid advance showing of Fall styles in the celebrated "Hartt" shoes. There's a wonderful selection, styles, some in the new minims and leathers.

Brown or Chocolate Dongola Kid Boots at $6.00 and $6.50

Made of the highest grade Dongola kid in the new dark shade; in button and blucher styles with single flexible well soles on a new natty last, easy fitting and very dressy. All sizes. Priced $6.00 and $6.50

Russian and Willow Calf Boots at $6.00 and $6.50

These splendid new styles are in light and dark shades of tan, in button and blucher styles with single flexible well soles of solid oak tanned black; shown in a choice of six smart new lasts; lined with a new moisture proof material. All sizes. Priced $6.00 and $6.50

New Dress Shoes at $6, $6.50 and $7

They are in patent leather Vici Kid or Kangaroo leathers, in button, blucher, or straight last styles with single weight Goodyear well soles. The patents have cloth or dull kid uppers. All sizes. Priced $6, $6.50 and $7.00

Northern Investment Agency
FINANCIAL BROKERS
EDMONTON, CANADA

For Rent
Attractive Suite of Offices for Rent in Agency Building.
Phone 2666
50 JASPER AVE. E.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE LOANS